GIANTS FINALLY STOP YANKS, 7-3

War Clouds Gather Over Europe

DUCE SENDS TROOPS TO AID REBELS

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Europe headed for a new, grave crisis over the Spanish civil war today. Italy, in a note to Great Britain, rejected in fact if not in principle, British-French demand for direct negotiations on withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain. Coincidentally, the Spanish Loyalist government in a note to Great Britain charged that Italy was embarking on aggression and a fresh campaign of aggression and terror in aid of the Nationalists. Britain and France, awaiting receipt of coded dispatches containing the text of Italy's note, arranged to start Monday on consultations concerning their action.

May Open Frontiers

It was reported not only that France would open her frontier to permit arms and men to go to the Loyalists through French territory but that she even might, if Italy persisted in her course, "permit" men of her own crack army, Europe's most powerful, to "volunteer" for service with the Loyalists.

There was plain evidence that all the skill and coolness of statesmen might be needed to head a new drift toward war.

The Italian note was expected. But the Spanish Loyalist note was a surprise development that put at once in the open the charges circulated privately throughout European capitals that Italy planned new help to the insurgents.

Rebel Aviator

Reports that Bruno Mussolini, 20, above, son of the dictator, was leading a crack Italian bombing squadron of 23 planes against the Spanish Loyalists created a sensation in England and brought a storm of protest. Bruno's first action was said to have been a raid against Valencia with his squadron, which is made up of Italy's best flyers. Young Mussolini is a veteran of Ethiopian campaigns.

ITALY OFFERS TO AID JAPAN IN CHINESE WAR

Ann Hewitt Starts On Honeymoon

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Ann Cooper Hewitt, heiress to the Peter Cooper millions, who gained the national spotlight when she sued her mother and two doctors on the allegation that she was sterilized against her will, was married here Friday to Ronald Gay of Oakland, Calif.

The ceremony was performed by Judge G. W. Mathews. Mrs. Josephine Gay, the bridegroom's mother, and Pauline Rodriguez were witnesses.

Posed for Pictures

The bride reluctantly received a United Press correspondent today and posed for one picture.

She said they came to Grants Pass to avoid publicity of their wedding. They had been engaged for a year, she said.

The couple refused to reveal their destination when they left on a honeymoon tour today.

CHINA WILL "FIGHT TO LAST DITCH"

TOKYO, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Fascist Italy today came to the aid of Japan which had been condemned by the world assembly of the League of Nations and the United States for her war on China, it was reported on reliable authority.

Giuseppe Auliti, Italian ambassador, held a half hour conference with Kensei Horinouchi, vice foreign minister, and afterward the Domei News Agency, whose reports are regarded as authoritative concerning government matters, asserted that Auliti assured Japan of Italy's sympathy and support in Japan's "self defense" campaign in China.

Horinouchi, the agency asserted, thanked Premier Benito Mussolini, through the ambassador, for his support, especially at a time when other western powers were against Japan.

CHINA TO FIGHT TO LAST DITCH

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek called for a "last ditch" fight against Japan.

Judge Allen Home; Tells Trial Story

Superior Judge James L. Allen has returned to Santa Ana from Santa Barbara where he presided at a trial that, according to reports, has established a record in California jurisprudence.

The trial, which continued for 25 days, resulted in the acquittal of Harold C. French who had been charged with negligent homicide in connection with the death of Camillo Fenzi, vice consul of Italy, who was killed in an automobile accident when his car and one driven by French collided at a street intersection near Santa Barbara.

According to the information on which French was held he was accused of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

A new angle was introduced in

RULE ON SICK LEAVE CLAUSE

The clause of the new county salary ordinance which limits county employees to 15 days "time off" during the year, for any purpose, including vacations and sick leave combined, is meaningless, according to District Attorney W. F. Menton.

Section 4327 of the political code of California provides all county employees shall be entitled to 15 working days vacation on full pay every year. The supervisors, said Menton, presumably have the right to deduct from employees' salaries time absent from work on account of illness, since that would come under their power of regulating compensation, as provided in the 1933 constitutional amendment.

Duties Regulated

But an opinion from Attorney General U. S. Webb, said Menton, rules that the duties of officers and employees are regulated, as before, by state law, and are not within the authority of the supervisors to regulate. Section 4327, therefore, applies to the vacation situation. Webb also ruled, incidentally, that the supervisors lack authority to prohibit private practice on the part of deputy district attorneys, as was done in the new ordinance. Such a matter, said Webb, is a matter of policy on the part of the district attorney's office itself. Menton added that he

HOORAY FOR THE IRISH

MALDEN, Mass., Oct. 9.—(UP)—When a St. Mary's street resident telephoned police headquarters last night to report that a stranger was creating a disturbance at his home, events happened in this order:

Desk Officer John F. Murphy took the call and reported to Sergeant John T. Murphy who assigned Patrolman John B. Murphy who arrested John M. Murphy.

JEEPERS! THE JEEP'S TAKEN UP FLYING AS CHIEF PASTIME

BY MALCOLM BOSTWICK

Aviator Johnny Martin's South American "jeep," brought to Santa Ana by plane and given into temporary custody of Police Chief Floyd Howard, is now studying flying at the Eddie Martin airport. Makes a fearless student, too, according to Floyd Martin, airport pilot and teacher.

"Jeep" who's friendly as a kitten and just as tame, and looks somewhat like a tiny, slim bear, is about the size of two cats, has a tail three feet long, feet like a bear, fur like a raccoon, and roots in the ground like a pig. He's really known as a kinkajou, is a nocturnal, arboreal, carnivorous animal.

Up in the air regularly with the aviators who fly from the port, goes "Jeep." Loves it. Studies

THREE DIE, 13 ILL AS POISON MISTAKEN FOR PANCAKE FLOUR

WOODLAND, Calif., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Two cooks from the Don L. Taylor tomato ranch were held in jail today after three ranch hands died and 13 were stricken critically ill from eating poisoned pancakes.

The poison was kept to kill Black-birds dropping in the field. The first one stricken was George Martin, 27, who was said to have brought the poison to the kitchen for the cooks, thinking it was flour. He fell dead in a corral.

Also dead were Henry R. Webb, 47, and Oscar M. Mattson, 63. The three near death were Walter Yates, 46; George Gilger, 32, and Martin Berglund, 53.

Officers were told that the cooks ran out of flour while mixing the pancake batter. Martin, who had come to the ranch the day before in search of work, and slept the first night in a tank house, recalled seeing what he thought was a sack of flour there. He took it to the kitchen and the cooks poured it into the batter. Garrison was told. It was the poison.

19TH CHILD BORN TO MOTHER INJURED IN TRAFFIC CRASH

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 9.—(UP)—A 39-year-old mother, who gave birth to her 19th child four days after receiving a broken neck in an automobile accident, was expected today to recover.

So incredible was the case that it was reported that a broken neck usually was fatal.

Glenwood's injuries included shock, head injuries and cuts. Two other persons in the automobile and Mrs. Arrington's 17th child, a two-year-old girl, were not injured.

On Thursday, with Mrs. Arrington's head and back bruised in a harness to prevent movement, Dr. J. A. Sims, the hospital's obstetrician, delivered a nine-pound girl.

UNIONS TO PICKET STANFORD HOSPITAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—(UP)—The Hospital and Institutional Workers' Union today threatened to start picketing Stanford hospital next Monday as protest against the hospital's withdrawal from negotiations yesterday in which 13 other hospitals signed union agreements.

M. J. Rowan, business representative of the union, said the agreements were made at conferences of the union and the hospital conference and provided a minimum wage of $30 a month, the eight hour six day week and preferential hiring under an 18 months contract.

HOWARD SUPPORTED BY I. T. U. IN FIGHT

DENVER, Oct. 9.—(UP)—The powerful International Typographical union today rallied to the defense of its president, Charles P. Howard, who has been marked for punishment at the American Federation of Labor convention here because of his CIO activities.

The I. T. U. delegation announced after a caucus that it would oppose any proposal to bar Howard from his seat at the convention. Jack Gill, Cleveland president of the I. T. U., said he was informed that convention leaders had already agreed to bar Howard because of his work in behalf of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

CONTEST WINNING NAVY MAN MARRIES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Aviation Cadet William R. Staggs, who catapulted to front-page fame a few weeks ago when he won $100,000 first prize in a cigarette puzzle contest, was married here today.

Grace Kathryn Glasser, Los Angeles, was the bride of the navy flier she met when both were students at the University of Illinois.

The marriage at the Sacred Heart church here came as a climax to the winning of the $100,000 prize—which he shared equally with four fellow-fliers—and the end of two years' naval service during which Staggs could not marry.

EFFORTS FUTILE TO END OUTLAW STRIKE

COALDALE, Pa., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Officials of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of America sought in vain today to halt an "outlaw" strike of 8500 anthracite miners who walked out of the Panther Creek Valley pits in sympathy with 39 underground sit-down strikers.

The strike was directed against the Lehigh Navigation Coal company, which has a contract with the miners' union.

Jesse B. Warriner, president of the company, said that he would not negotiate with the underground strikers until the "illegal" sympathy strike had been ended.

Divorce Granted Wife Of Thespian

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9.—(UP)—The second wife of actor Richard Bennett, father of the movie stars Joan and Constance Bennett, had a divorce and $50,000 community property today after testifying in court that:

"Dick would temporarily go insane and play his parts with such realism that he climaxed one performance by driving a nail file through my cheek."

Mrs. Angela Bennett, who married the actor in 1927 and appeared with him on the stage, won an uncontested divorce decree from Superior Judge Charles Burnell yesterday. Bennett is in New York.

A. L. CHAMPS SILENCED BY 'KING CARL'

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Carl Hubbell, pitching with stout heart and steady hand, broke the Yankees' triumphant spell today by hurling the Giants to a 7 to 3 triumph over the American league champions in the fourth game of the World Series.

With nearly 45,000 fans shivering on this chilly October day Hubbell, knocked out of the box in the opening game, came back to stop the Yanks' bid for their 4th straight victory.

King Carl held the Yanks to 6 hits, and pitched magnificently in the pinches. Rolfe's freak triple—Hank Leiber tried to make a diving catch of a single—and an out-field fly gave the Yanks a one run lead in the first inning.

PLAY BY PLAY

First Inning—Yanks

Crossett popped to Whitehead in short right. Rolfe singled to center and raced all the way to third when Leiber attempted to make a diving catch. The official scorer ruled it was a triple. Dimaggio flied to Ripple in deep right field. Rolfe scored after the catch. Gehrig flied to McCarthy.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

NINE ARRESTED FOR GAMBLING

Nine men were arrested last night in a gambling raid at La Habra, and another was scheduled to be taken into custody today, as Chief of Police Archie Collins of La Habra, led officers in a swoop upon a poker game, assertedly operated in the rear of the M and M cafe. Officers from the sheriff's and district attorney's offices assisted Chief Collins.

Clarence Michael, one of the cafe owners, was taken in last night's raid, and officers today expected to arrest his partner, Marvin W. Middleton, a warrant having been issued. Others arrested last night were Russell Jennings of 424 East Penn, Whittier, who is charged with conducting the poker game, and seven players: Bill Sweet of San Bernardino, Edwin P. Fitzgerald of Buena Park, Junior Carroll Everett, Harry C. Hall, Fletcher Reed, Robert L. Willis and Harvey J. Livingston, all of La Habra.

It is claimed that the cafe owners had rented the rear room to

ROLAND WILL IS PROTESTED

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Ruth Roland, serial queen of the silent films, was mentally incompetent when she signed her will shortly before her death a fortnight ago, her father charged today. The father, John R. Roland, was cut off with $100 while bulk of her $1,000,000 estate went to her husband, Ben Bard, movie actor and producer.

Roland brought a contest to the will in superior court. He charged Bard subjected the former actress to undue influence to sign the will at the time she was of unsound mind because of the illness that caused her death last Sept. 22.

Handwritten Will

Miss Roland's will was in her own handwriting. It left $100 to her father and $10 to each of his two children. Bard was given one half of the million dollar fortune she amassed in the films and real estate. The rest was divided between Edith B. Thompson, aunt who had reared her, and a cousin, Mrs. Edith Garven.

A proviso stated that anyone attacking the will—as in this case, her father—shall be cut off with $1.

IDAHO CONVICT IS NABBED IN ARIZONA

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 9.—(UP)—A 36-year-old convict, who saved his way out of the Idaho state prison last May, today awaited removal to Idaho following his capture near here after two service station holdups.

El Miles, serving 20 to 40 years for robbery in Idaho, was arrested near Mesa, 15 miles from here, yesterday and admitted robbing a service station at Glendale and one in Phoenix of about $10 each. He signed extradition papers.

After spending the night in a Mesa hotel, he stopped to repair his car when Deputy Sheriff Lee Seidel arrested him. He had started for Tucson.

TEASER LOSES CLOTHES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Cynthia Mitchell, a striptease dancer at the Gayety burlesque theater, lost her clothes last night—this time for good apparently. During the performance someone stole them from her dressing room.

FOREST FIRE NEAR VENTURA BURNS OUT

SANTA PAULA, Cal., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Ventura county's worst brush and forest fire in years today burned itself out after denuding 10,000 acres of valuable watershed and destroying four homes. Damage was estimated at upwards of $80,000.

The flames which swept the slopes of South mountain, west of Santa Paula, at one time threatened two large oil fields and crept to the edges of the cities of Santa Paula and Fillmore. Under the direction of Earl Branch, assistant fire warden of Ventura county, hundreds of men battled to save homes and orchards.

MORE CARS IN CAL. THAN IN NEW YORK

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 9.—(UP)—California has passed New York state for the first time and now leads the nation in total motor vehicle registration.

Figures released by the state department of motor vehicles disclosed that California's registration for the first six months of 1937 totaled 2,476,478—a lead of 116,070 over New York's 2,360,408 for the same period.

Although California's pleasure car registration previously had topped that of New York, never before had the total exceeded that of the Empire state.

FIRE THEN FLOOD KEEP FIREMEN BUSY

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Oakland firemen arrived at the city hall today to fight a fire but instead spent two hours battling a flood of water from a broken hydrant.

The blaze, in a janitor's closet, melted a coupling on the hydrant and tons of water flowed out into the street before Captain Barney Dooley and Hosemen John Burns and Leo Brous stripped, plunged into the flood and attached a new coupling.

"AIN'T THE SAME"

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 9.—(UP)—The 12 survivors of the naval academy's class of 1881 looked over the current crop of middies today and decided:

"The country is safer but the boys don't have as much fun as we did."

The average age of the survivors is nearly 80 years. They have been holding their annual reunion in Washington and came here to attend the Navy-Virginia football game today.

SAV'S BRIDGES IS COMMUNIST

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 9.—(UP)—Speaking at the Klamath basin potato festival at Merrill, Governor Charles H. Martin revealed that he had "begged" President Roosevelt to "see to it" that a warrant is issued for the arrest and deportation of Harry Bridges, coast C. I. O. leader, as a Communist.

The governor said that evidence that Bridges is a Communist had been unearthed "right here in Oregon."

"And now let's see if it's done," the governor concluded his remarks about Bridges.

Bridges' Room Ransacked

The governor's reference to evidence against the longshoremen's leader was not amplified. It was recalled, however, that several months ago, while attending a convention of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific in Portland, that Bridges claimed his room in the Multnomah hotel had been ransacked and his telephone wire tapped. He moved out of the hotel and nothing more was heard of the affair.

Recently the immigration authorities in Washington revealed that Bridges was being "investigated," but Raphael Bonham of Seattle, district superintendent of the immigration service, refused to amplify or explain the revelation.

PERMIT IS GRANTED TO TRANSMIT POWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(UP)—The Federal Power Commission today authorized the Tigre Mining Co. of Mexico City to transmit power from the Dodge Corp. of Douglas, Ariz., to its mining property at El Tigre, Sonora, Mex.

The authorization called for an annual transmission of 1,500,000 kilowatt hours over the company's 44,000 volt transmission lines for exclusive use in mining operations.

Shore Gang Labor Election Delayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(UP)—The National Labor Relations board today extended by five days an election date for "shore gangs" of the International Mercantile Marine Co., the United States Lines the Huron Stevedoring Corp. and Acme Stevedoring Co., Inc.

The shore gangs do maintenance and repair work on vessels in dock. The election was originally ordered within 15 days after Sept. 25, to designate collective bargaining unions.

Death Stalks the Highway

Cooperating with the Santa Ana Police department in its safety driving campaign The Register is donating space for this "strip." The sketches were purchased by the policemen in order to impress on the minds of the people of Santa Ana the necessity for careful and sane driving.

"Unto my life, there came a time supreme, When clubby, baby hands Fulfilled a cherished dream."

"Then, came an hour fraught with mad despair, When baby stole into the street— We found him lying there— A victim of some fiend who struck him down. Then drove away."

"Ah, Time has tried to heal the wound, my son. But, still, each night, I stand beneath the dancing stars And wonder where, within all space, I'll find your dimpled, baby face— I wonder where, tonight, you really are."

"Perhaps, tonight, on some star bright, You rest your curly head, And cry, and cry, and wonder why I do not tuck you in your bed."

"O God, I pray, watch o'er my son— To me, he is not dead— Please take his little hand in yours, And tuck him in your bed."

Gehrig. Moore was out, Rofe to Gehrig. Bartell flied to Hoag. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

TWO HURT WHEN TRUCKS COLLIDE

Santiago Gomez, 21, and Peter Encinas, 29, both of Irvine, were taken to the Orange county hospital late last night following a collision of trucks, driven by T. R. Jakeway, Los Angeles, and Jose G. Gomez, Irvine, at Culver Corner and Irvine road.

Santiago Gomez suffered three fractured ribs and lacerations of the face and body. Encinas was treated with first aid for minor cuts and contusions.

According to the California Highway Patrol report, Jakeway was attempting to pass the Gomez pickup truck and mis-judged the distance, striking the left rear of the Gomez vehicle, causing Gomez to lose control. The car driven by Gomez careened to the opposite side of the road and striking the ditch, turned over.

Further, the note said, the Loyalist government was seriously perturbed by the latest information received.

BRITISH "HUSH UP" ATTACK REPORT
LONDON, Oct. 9.—(UP)—An investigation of a reported attack on a British warship by an unidentified submarine in the Mediterranean was officially closed today. The admiral announced that no attack had taken place.

The submarine was said to have fired a torpedo at the British destroyer Basilisk off Cape San Antonio, on the eastern coast of Spain, last Monday. The Basilisk dropped depth charges and reportedly sank the submarine.

Independent reports confirmed that the Basilisk had been attacked.

Just a "Mistake"
It was thought that the British government sought to avoid international complications by "hushing up" the attack.

An admiralty official said that a "mistake undoubtedly occurred."

"The depth charges might have been fired in consequence," he said. "But after a full investigation, however, we changed our minds although we can't say what it was that appeared to be a torpedo. It high have been a porpoise, but I cannot really say."

SHIPYARD WORKERS SEEK TO ORGANIZE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(UP)—Organization of Army and Navy arsenal and shipyard workers has been facilitated by a conference with Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, according to Jacob Baker, president of the United Federal Workers of America.

The Federal Workers Union is a branch of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Baker said there is no direct protest that army and navy officials were crippling collective bargaining, but that there was dissatisfaction with the official attitude toward employee representation on wage boards.

CHINESE WILL FIGHT TO END

Japan tonight in a broadcast to the nation in which he predicted a long war.

"We should know there is absolutely no chance of the war being ended within a few months," the marshal said. "We must visualize ever-increasing hardships as long as the bitter struggle lasts."

"International sympathy, although a cause for great encouragement, should not be permitted to awaken false hopes. We must help ourselves before others can help us. We must be prepared to fight to the last ditch and marshal all our forces to subdue the present perils."

"Long Live China," was the keynote of the speech, delivered on the eve of the 26th national anniversary of Republican China.

CHINA PREPARES FOR OFFENSIVE

BY JOHN K. MORRIS
SHANGHAI, Oct. 9.—(UP)—

Chinese troops, big guns and munitions trains crowded roads west of Shanghai today, pressing toward the front where Chinese and Japanese armies prepared for offensives on a gigantic scale.

The Japanese, learning of the Chinese plan to start a gigantic offensive Sunday or Monday, hoped to strike first.

On the road from Nanking, returning to Shanghai by motor car from a visit to Nanking, I saw a most astonishing crush of traffic, miles long, of men and armaments. Great field guns—the one largest I have ever seen—tractors pulling ammunition wagons; trucks, pack horses, mules, plodding infantrymen fought for space on the roads, muddled by rains that have persisted for days.

Japanese Attack
There was some fighting in the rain today, notably along Woosung creek north of the city. It was savage, sometimes hand to hand. Japanese, on the attack, apparently sought to prevent organization of the Chinese offensive.

The Chinese offensive is to mark the 26th anniversary of the start of the revolution which led to the republic. But Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, a Christian—converted by his wife, an honor graduate of Wellesley—was expected to forbid a start on the anniversary day, tomorrow, because it is Sunday.

What the offensive will mean in terms of human life and suffering is indicated by the assertion of a Japanese spokesman today that between August 23 and October 7 the Japanese counted 57,767 Chinese dead on the Shanghai front, of whom 38,080 were in the Lihuang and Lotien sectors.

Plans for Orange county's participation in the 1938 national convention of the American Legion in Los Angeles were discussed when the county council of the Legion met in Brea last night. A committee of Franklin "Brick" Grouard, Fred Sidebottom and Ben Lieberman was named to make preparations.

According to present plans Legionnaires of this county will march in a parade and also present oranges to visitors.

A resolution was adopted recommending that the state executive committee issue a charter to the newly organized post at San Clemente.

Other business at the meeting included presentation of committee reports.

had informed the supervisors he would cooperate by adopting such a policy if salaries were suitably adjusted, which was done. The "no practice" policy is in effect, he said.

Menton's statement was made in response to questions, in view of the future raised at the courthouse over the clause in the ordinance on time off. The supervisors, he indicated, apparently did not choose to make the clause an out-and-out provision for salary deductions in case of illness, which was within their power.

The practice in county departments heretofore has been to "double up" when employees are ill, other employees doing their work without requiring the expense of a substitute, and no deduction being made for the time off. The new ordinance will either deduct from salaries in case of illness or force the employees to pass up their vacations for fear of such deductions, Menton predicted.

A five-day jail sentence was cancelled and an intended charge of speeding 68 miles per hour in a 45 miles zone, was dismissed by Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday in the case of L. H. McIntire, drainage engineer, of Newport Beach, on the ground that the speeding complaint, as made out, contained only the figures 68 and 45 and said nothing about miles per hour.

There was no cause of action stated against McIntire, therefore the court ruled, in sustaining his appeal from sentence by Justice Hayden at Tustin.

John Niles pleaded guilty to burglary of the W. C. Larabee home at Laguna Beach, where a revolver and ammunition was stolen September 27. Niles' plea for probation was set for October 15.

Jennings, who operated a "percentage" game of draw poker there, it is alleged, Michaels, arrested last night, denied knowledge that an illegal game was being conducted there.

Michaels, it developed, was to have been succeeded as half-owner of the cafe today by one of the alleged poker players, Everett, who had paid $600 cash to Michaels for his interest yesterday and was to have taken possession today, officers said.

ALLEN TELLS OF STRANGE TRIAL

to the trial, according to Judge Allen, which has no parallel in California jurisprudence. This angle came when the prosecution introduced, as a witness, an engineer for the General Motors truck division at Burbank, who qualified as an expert in physics and testified that he could definitely determine from photographs of the accident, which car had struck the other and how fast the automobile was traveling at the time.

Judge Allen said that the witness gave a series of demonstrations proving his qualifications prior to testifying that the car driven by French, which admittedly had gone through a boulevard stop had been traveling at the speed of 36.3 miles per hour when it struck the automobile in which Fenzi was riding.

Experts Differ
To refute this testimony the defense called the instructor in physics at Stanford who testified that the prosecution expert had arrived at the right answers to problems in physics but had used the wrong method of arriving at his answers. The two experts used considerable time in disputing and proving their theories before the case went to the jury.

Judge Allen said that the regular venire of jurors had been flee, and Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey and James Musick.

The prisoners will be arraigned in La Habra justice court Monday afternoon.

★ SUNDAY NOTES—

After the deluxe last Sunday, it's a treat to look at the log and see things running smoothly once again.

However, there's one newcomer to the program: the new thirty-minutes in Hollywood, starring

George Jessel and Norma (Mrs. Jessel) Talmadge. It's a variety show.

(KJL, 8)

Silver Theater (KNX, 2 p. m.) got off to an unusually snappy start last Sunday. If you missed the opening we advise you to get in on the next three episodes.

Felix Mills, who fashions the fine

background music for this half-hour, has a unique manner in selecting the songs. Mills asked the two stars,

Rosaland Russell and Jimmie Stewart, for their favorite numbers. It's

Mills' idea that by playing their best-liked tunes during an intensely emotional scene the desired psychological effect will be created.

Don Ameche returns to headman that afternoon hour. Miriam Hopkins is the visiting star. Yeah,

Charlie she likes lemonade. (KFI, 5)

The discussion up before the Chicago Round Table is "What Does

Europe Want?" (KFI, 8:30 a. m.)

MCMASTERS NAMED O. C. A. C. REFEREE

Mickey (Mouse) McMasters, considered by many as the most colorful of all wrestling referees on the Pacific Coast today was named by the California state athletic commission to handle Monday night's wrestling program at the Orange County Athletic club when Nick Lutze meets Laverne Baxter, handsome "badboy" of the mat.

Claiming that he was given the worst of it when he wrestled Ignacio Martinez here, and carrying his protest to the commission, Chief Inspector Willie Ritchie instructed Bill Smith to notify McMasters of his assignment for the Lutze-Baxter match, as well as the other bouts on the program.

Baxter has never appeared in the Orange County ring but comes to this section heralded as one of the most vicious of all "badmen." Martinez meets Casey Columbo in one of the other star three-fall matches while Pat Riley and Myron Cox, 210-pound running mate of Lutze, clash in the other.

Columbo was a big card here two years ago when he ran up an unbroken winning streak of more than 10 matches before falling before the onslaught of Vincent Lopez' elbow smashes.

NORRIS ENJOYS SECLUDED LIFE

WAUPACA, Wis. (UP)—For 30 years residents of this city of 3000 inhabitants have seen a quiet summer visitor intermittently upon their streets. But few recognize him as George W. Norris, ranking liberal of the U. S. senate.

Shopkeepers glance up from their tasks into eyes deep-set beneath shaggy brows and serve a soft-spoken voice that asks for shingle nails, car locks, window screen, socks and other commonplace items.

Through the years two men whose friendship he won in college have shared Norris' escape from political strife and the strain of congress. E. E. Smith, Dodge City, Kas., and H. H. Harrington, Waukegan, Wis., joined Norris in purchasing summer homes on the Waupaca chain of 23 spring-fed lakes.

The three held reunions here annually, with printed programs, banquets and good-natured formality. They had a reunion society with the three members rotating annually in the three offices of president, vice president and secretary. So quietly were these affairs conducted that John Burnham, son of a publisher and job printer who printed their programs for 25 years, sold them to the group for five years before he identified "G. W. Norris, Vice Pres. Toastmaster" as the Nebraska liberal.

Inner Circle Smaller Harrington's death recently made a break in the circle of Norris' close friends here. The senator's contacts with other residents of this lake area have been infrequent and lacked the intimacy of his relationship with these two men.

Norris showed his reluctance to have others invade his seclusion when Mrs. Norris proposed to have guests attend a dinner in observance of his 75th birthday anniversary, July 11, 1936.

"Who would you have?" Norris inquired.

"Well, I thought maybe Ed and Rose Browne," she said.

Browne was in congress for 20 years and recently was appointed to the Wisconsin state conservation commission. He owns extensive lake frontage and maintains an elaborate home here.

"No, I don't want them," Norris protested. "I just want to stay home and eat with you. I want to have my way if it's my birthday."

"Well, the Brownes would really enjoy . . . Mrs. Norris suggested.

"But my dear, whose birthday is this—mine or Ed Browne's?" the senator interposed, winning his point.

Senator's Cottage Modest

Norris lives in modest comfort in a white frame cottage built 20 years ago on a peninsula fronting the channel connecting Neessing and McCrossen lakes. The place is equipped with electricity, piped water, refrigeration, bath and other conveniences.

The house virtually is concealed by maples, oaks, birches and other trees which the Norris family has preserved carefully. When Norris' health was more robust he did much of the work about his house and grounds himself. He kept the lawn and trees neatly trimmed, fitted screens to the windows and did other odd jobs about the place.

The peninsula slopes down to the channels, where the water is kept back by a low retaining wall. The

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ALL NARCISSUSES ARE DAFFODILS, AND ALL DAFFODILS ARE NARCISSUSES, SINCE NARCISSUS IS THE BOTANICAL NAME OF THE GENUS, AND DAFFODIL IS THE COMMON NAME. JONQUILS ARE ONE PARTICULAR KIND OF NARCISSUS, OR DAFFODIL.

THE EARTH, IF SEEN FROM THE OUTER PLANETS, WOULD GO THROUGH ALL THE PHASES, FROM A THIN CRESCENT TO A FULL DISC... THE SAME AS OUR MOON.

WORKER TERMITES, UNLIKE BEES AND ANTS, MAY BE EITHER MALES OR FEMALES.

FROM our earth, we see not only the moon go through its phases, but also the planets Mercury and Venus, which are closer to the sun than ourselves. Likewise, an observer on the planets farther away from the sun than we are, would see our earth with varying portions of its surface reflecting the sun's rays.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

PITTSBURGH—Guiding a defending Rose Bowl champion is a new experience for Dr. John Bain Sutherland after 18 years as head coach of a major college football team, 13 of them spent at the University of Pittsburgh, where his clubs have lost only 18 games.

Jock Sutherland missed three times at Pasadena, but twice—in 1928 and 1932—the tall Scotsman brought his array back near the top after taking walkabouts on the golden slope.

Sutherland had only 11 worthwhile players in 1928, yet only 13 points were scored against the Panthers. With better material in 1932, the same number of points were registered by rivals, and only one game was lost—to mighty Minnesota, 7-3.

Now, with a Bowl winner, and 25 lettersmen, including eight who started against Washington, Sutherland is on the sport marked X. Well-meaning, but over-zealous alumni believe that Pitt can't lose this trip.

But those closest to Pitt, the silent doctor's staff, and Panther athletic officials will not be surprised if, somewhere and somehow, the boys manage to kick one. And there will be no censure if it happens. The set-up appears altogether too good.

Sutherland is not worrying (and he's a Grade A worrier) about the lads easing up because of their present apparent exalted position. There are still too many fights for position to allow a letdown by any player.

Sutherland's staff is changed. The Pasadena victory opened posts for several of his veteran assistants who were anxious to get out for themselves after years at the knee of the master technician.

Bill Kern and Dr. Eddie Baker went to Carnegie Tech. Eddie Hirschberg departed for Dartmouth. Three Pitt men, with high school and college coaching experience returned to replace them. They are Josh Williams, Alex Fox, and Eddie Schultz.

Sutherland himself hasn't changed a lot. He still feels good because he was able to demonstrate that the running game still is the backbone of football. He had preached this doctrine for years.

Pitt's 6-0 victory last year over passing Ohio State and the Panthers' record bore him out, with the smashing defeat of Washington in the Rose Bowl spotlighting the confirmation of his theory.

Rival coaches had best not figure on stopping Pitt on last year's formula, however. Sutherland has taken to the air before. He is likely to again, and has the tossers at hand.

No football man can build an offense any better than the tactician Sutherland.

Perhaps Sutherland can school his sophomores during this fall's engagements, but he'll have to be careful.

Duquesne won a year ago, and is more formidable this time.

Fordham, after two scoreless ties, gets Pitt in New York on the fourth Saturday, the same day on which the Panthers have lost their only four games in four years—to Minnesota, twice, Notre Dame, and Duquesne.

Wisconsin no longer is a setup, with Harry Stuhldreher better established.

Carnegie Tech, under Kern, will be tougher than usual.

Carl Hubbell tries to save droopy giants

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK—Like King Canute, who commanded the angry waves to stand still, Carl Hubbell goes to the mound at the Polo Grounds today in a desperate attempt to keep the Giants in the world series.

The odds on Hubbell are about the same as they were on Canute, who, if you remember, got his feet wet.

The Yankees needed only today's game for four straight world series triumphs. They have beaten every pitcher Manager Bill Terry has sent against them; they have averaged 7 runs a game; they have held the Giants to 3 runs in 27 innings.

McCarthy "Sits Pretty"

Chewing a fat cigar, Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees reached far back into the rear row of his pitching strength and called on "Bump" Hadley, an in-and-outter all season, to start against the Giants.

What matters it, McCarthy reasoned, who pitches for the Yankees, so long as DiMaggio, Gehrig, Dickey and company are up there swinging.

And there stands King Canute Hubbell today, commanding the Yankee waves to stand still.

There he is, seeking to beat back the storm with the power of his bumpy left arm, trying to appease the roaring winds with a drifting, dinky do screwball. Once before in this series he tried and took that long slow walk to the dugout with Yankee baselists ringing a dirge in his ears. That was in the first game when they blasted him out of the box.

Thursday and yesterday he slouched in the dugout and heard the roar and ring of Yankee power. He saw Melton, Coffman, Schumacher, Gumbert, Brennan, and Smith blow high and dry on the beach, derelicts of the storm.

Same Old Story

Yesterday's game was the same old story. The Giants got their customary one run. The Yankees who made eight in each of the first two games, went into a terrific slump and only got five. The Giants brought the crowd, already halfway out of the Polo Grounds, back into the aisles by filling the bases in the ninth inning. But Harry Danning, Giant catcher who had one foot on the glory road, hit a pop fly to center field and DiMaggio buried the Giants' hopes in his big brown glove.

All afternoon Monte Pearson had been urging the Giants to death, outguessing them on the money pitches.

For five and two-thirds innings he didn't give the Giants a hit, and then Lou Chiozza bunted, and like the deer he is, beat it out down to first. After that the Giants got four more hits and a run—not that it mattered.

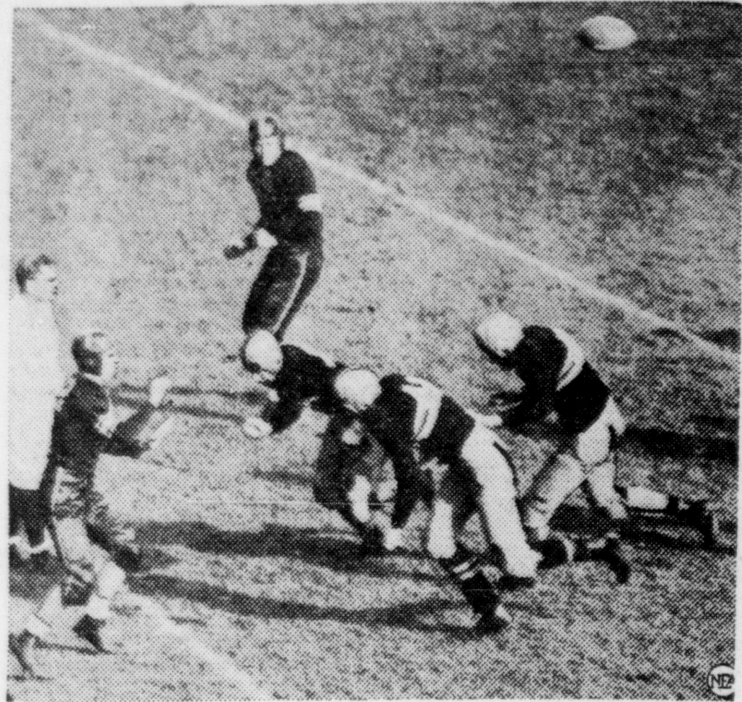

The only thing they could take away from Pearson was that he lost control in the ninth when the bases were filled.

Russells, Sauer, Cardwells, and Francis, failed, maybe. Major Biff Jones and his two veteran lines can perform the feat.

Pitt's schedule is tough enough, but Dr. Sutherland always manages to come up with the proper prescription.

Pity The Poor Passer

The steeple-jack's life is as safe as a government bond compared to the life of a passer these days. The kicker is protected under present rules, but not the luckless fellow who flings the forward passes as you can see very well here in this picture of Clemson's Halfback Bailey about to feel the bruising brunt of those three Army brutes at West Point.

'Condemned' Giants Devour Last Meal

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

The governor having flatly denied a plea for clemency, and the state department having refused to intervene, there was nothing for the New York Giants to do today but come out against the Yankees and walk as gallantly down the plank as possible.

A suggestion that the Giants copy the tactics of Flier Harold Dahl and have their wives send pictures to Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yanks was vetoed by Terry.

Some of the Giants wives don't look like Mrs. Dahl. It was a great humanitarian compared to McCarthy.

Here are some of the last meals eaten by Giant players Terry Poached eggs and scrambled eggs. Hubbell: Spaghetti a la Caruso. Mancuso: Filet of sole Marguery and hashed brown potatoes. Ott: Fricassee of chicken wings and hopping John. Rippe: Snails and corned beef hash.

Riddle: What is the difference between the bleacher customers who come to the park hours before game time, and the Giants?

Answer: The early bird bleacher boys get the worm. The Giants get the early bird. Along about the sixth inning, in fact.

Today's weather was gorgeous. Were I a higher priced writer I would describe it to you as sky so blue it resembled a blue enameled dip pot turned upside down, little clouds like fleecy cattle pups racing hither and yon, a breeze so gentle it must have been generated by a low winged cherub, and a sun as brilliant as a scarlet tanager's waistcoat.

It was a perfect day for fishing, football, bowling on the green, picnicking—in short, for any of those things the Giants would rather do than play baseball against the Yankees.

Carl Hubbell pitches for the Giants today. His nomination furnished about as much surprise as would the announcement that hens are known to lay eggs. Hubbell always is pitching for the Giants. He's determined to see that he is punched full of holes before he wears out.

M'Clure and Smith catch payoff passes

For better or worse—only the future will tell—Santa Ana high school's football forces are ready for their first season in the citrus belt league. They looked back today on a pre-conference series of three games, climaxed yesterday by a 13-7 victory over Al Reboin's Huntington Beach Oilers at Poly field.

The Santa Anas had to take to the air to decision the Sunset leaguers; that also was the only way Huntington Beach could get anywhere against the Saints' stronger line.

Santa Ana struck for a touchdown late in the second quarter and again early in the fourth. Passes accounted for both. Bill Collins, Coach Bill Foote's new left halfback, threw 'em. Right End Milton Smith outjumped a Huntington Beach halfback for the first one which Collins shot from the Oiler 18. The other Saint wingman, big Jack M'Clure, turned in the winning touchdown. Catching Collins' shot on the 25-yard line, he straight-armed a tackler out of the way and ran down the sideline to the goal. The play started from the 42.

Thomas Blocks Point

Huntington Beach—which took the air early and made virtually all its yardage on passes—scored in the last two minutes. Captain Ray Thomas really put his team in position to make the touchdown by smashing through the Saint line and blocking Collins' punt at mid-field. The ball caromed off Thomas' chest to the Huntington Beach 20 where it was scooped up by Guard Wolfe and carried to the Santa Ana 6-yard line. Halfback Marvin Webb ran Wolfe down from behind or it would have been a touchdown right then and there.

The Oilers took the air at once. Curtis passed to Louie Gifford in the flat; the gain was negligible. Freeman failed to gain at center but Santa Ana was offside and penalized to the one-yard line. Freeman tried a wide end run and was thrown for a 13-yard loss. A pass was incomplete. However, the Saints were penalized five yards for defensive holding and Huntington Beach received a first down.

Curtis shot a pass in the flat to Freeman on the 6-yard line, a four-yard gain. Curtis then repeated the same play and Freeman wrenched away from several tacklers and drove over for a touchdown. Curtis threw the same pass to Freeman for the extra point. Santa Ana couldn't seem to solve the Curtis-Freeman aerial combination.

Saints Dominate Contest

After a first quarter flurry of passes which rolled the Oilers from their own 20 to Santa Ana's 29-yard mark, Santa Ana dominated the contest. Captain Don Warhurst broke up the first attack by intercepting a pass deep in his own territory; thereafter Huntington Beach was on the defense until Thomas blocked Collins' kick.

Sparked by Collins—and enlivened by his accurate passes to M'Clure and Smith—Santa Ana four times marched to Huntington Beach terrain without success. The first threat ended on the 32-yard line, the second on the 18, the third on the 32, the fourth on the 28.

Santa Ana made 8 first downs to Huntington Beach's 5. Four of Santa Ana's came from passes; three of the Oilers' were on penalties.

Eddie Freeman, a rugged halfback, was the Oilers' outstanding player, although Curtis proved a fine passer and Bob and Ray Thomas were alert linemen. Kato, Huntington Beach halfback, suffered a dislocated elbow. His absence handicapped the Oiler attack.

Collins, M'Clure, Bob Webb, Smith and Warhurst played splendid ball for Santa Ana, with little George Higashi something of a revelation at quarter. The lineup:

Orange, Fullerton Win Night Games

Bill Goodchild, stocky halfback, engineered the Fullerton high school Indians' 20 to 0 triumph over Anaheim's light but rugged Colonists at Fullerton last night.

Dick Glover's Colonists made a distinct threat in the first quarter when Alex Deverall shot passes to Jimmy Nunez, pass-snagging end, but lost the ball on the 9-yard stripe.

After regaining possession of the leather, Fullerton went on the war-path and drove the length of the field. Buzz Lovering shot aerials to Goodchild and alternated in lugging the ball through the Anaheim forward wall. Goodchild went over on an 18-yard pass from Lovering.

After once having broken the ice the Indians were almost invincible. With Art Pryor, quarterback, sparking the team, the Indians returned after the intermission to score again. Pryor took the ball to the four-yard line from where Goodchild scored and converted on a line plunge.

After getting within the ten-yard lane, the Indians lost the ball but regained it to manufacture another score—this time a pass from Goodchild to Pearson. Goodchild again smashed through for the extra point.

Fullerton rolled up 10 first downs to Anaheim's three. The Colonists were helpless against the hard-charging Fullerton forwards, but uncorked an aerial bombardment that often brought the 4000 spectators to their feet.

Orange county's mixed doubles championship of 1937 will be decided on the tennis courts of Santa Ana high school Sunday in a tournament beginning at 9 a. m. with four matches.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Ward, the defending tandem, play Gordon Knight and Mary Jane Van Vooven in the first round.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blair are expected to give Mr. and Mrs. Ward a real fight for the title.

NEWPORT HARBOR BEATS CLAREMONT, 13-0.

Scoring twice in the second quarter, Coach Ralph Reed's Newport Harbor Tars defeated Claremont 13-0 at Claremont. Thompson and Coe made the touchdowns.

BREA-OLINDA ROUTS CITRUS, 31-14.

Displaying a punch on the ground as well as in the air, Brea-Olinda shellacked Citrus, 31 to 14 at Citrus. Citrus got off in front in the first quarter but Brea-Olinda came back with 12 points in the second period.

GARDEN GROVE RUINS CLAREMONT, 24-6.

Featured by Merle Hape's 70-yard touchdown raffle in the final period, Garden Grove wrecked Claremont, 24-6. Hapes accounted for three of Garden Grove's four scores. LeClair going over for the other.

CAPISTRANO WRECKS FALLBROOK, 20-0.

San Juan Capistrano trounced Fallbrook, 20-0 in its first home game which was featured by Bill Calles, return of the opening kickoff for a Capistrano touchdown. Hallelady and Lilly made the Argonauts' other points.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Patty Berg, 19-year-old Hopkins, Minn. high school senior, and Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Greensboro, N. C., met on the links today for the first time in the 36-hole final match of the 41st annual Women's National golf championship.

It will be the second finals in golf for the Minneapolis girl, who was eliminated, 3 and 2, by Glenna Collett Vare of Philadelphia in 1935. It was the veteran, Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City who eliminated her, 4 and 3, in the quarter-finals last year.

Patty had little trouble yesterday in beating Mrs. Gregg Lifer, the Pacific Palisades player, 7 and 6.

After the Don starters "softened up" the Panthers in the first quarter, Coach Cook sent in a new team, and with Blas Mercurio and Larry Timken packing the pigskin the Dons slashed their way to the opening score midway in the second quarter.

Mercurio knifed his way 8 yards over his own left tackle for the touchdown. Co-Captain Erwin Youel came into the game to add the extra point. Previous to his touchdown run, Mercurio had made it a first down on the Chaffey 22 on a 14-yard gallop from the Chaffey 22.

Next Week's Games
Santa Ana at San Bernardino; Fullerton at Citrus; Pomona at Chaffey; Riverside, bye.

In a brilliant display of football tactics, Santa Ana junior college "triple-teamed" Chaffey into defeat, 27-0, in the first Eastern conference game of the season at Ontario last night.

It was the fourteenth successive victory for the Dons who have not been defeated or tied since the first game (Pasadena) of the 1936 campaign.

After rushing over three touchdowns in the fourth quarter on the tiring Panthers, the Dons today were being hailed again as the "team to beat" in the championship race.

The Dons meet Doug Smythe's powerful San Bernardino Indians next Friday night in their second conference start at San Bernardino.

Touchdown Parade
The Don touchdown parade in brief:

After the Don starters "softened up" the Panthers in the first quarter, Coach Cook sent in a new team, and with Blas Mercurio and Larry Timken packing the pigskin the Dons slashed their way to the opening score midway in the second quarter.

Mercurio knifed his way 8 yards over his own left tackle for the touchdown. Co-Captain Erwin Youel came into the game to add the extra point. Previous to his touchdown run, Mercurio had made it a first down on the Chaffey 22 on a 14-yard gallop from the Chaffey 22.

Oliver McCarter scored early in the fourth quarter on a "spinner" from Chaffey's 10. McCarter, McLennan and Dave Phoenix ripped off several nice gains in a 30-yard march to pay dirt. McCarter's try for extra point was wide.

A 35-yard gain on a lateral, McLennan to McCarter, put the Dons on the Panther 18 and in position for their third touchdown. McLennan shot over left tackle from the Panther one-foot line for the touchdown, and also kicked goal.

It took the Dons 11 plays to drive 48 yards for the final score, McCarter going over from the one-yard line. Chaffey's forward wall blocked the try for point but while both teams were walking back to the center of the field, smart Hal Tucker, Don sub halfback, picked the ball up and ran it over for the extra point. This is permissible under 1937 rules.

Chaffey Never Inside
Chaffey threatened mildly twice in the first half but never once got inside the Don 25. Real tackling by Santa Ana's linemen repulsed the Panthers every time they started to move. Danny Boyd, Dick Tauber and Bob Paul time and time again tossed Panther backs for losses. Pancho Foster, Co-Captain Erwin Youel, "Rusty" Roquet, John Joseph, Ted DeVelbiss and Joe Crawford also came in for praise from the Don coaching staff.

In the backfield, Co-Captain Ed Stanley, Dave Phoenix, Charles Mueller, Carl Lehnhardt and Beall displayed some brilliant blocking that made things easy for McCarter, McLennan, Mercurio and Timken, the standard ball-packers.

Bill Wilson, fleet Oceanside high school boy, brought the crowd to its feet five seconds before the end of the game with the longest and cleverest bit of running of the game. Wilson, cut back over his own left tackle and reversed his field for a 32-yard run, which looked like a touchdown. Officials ruled, however, that he had been stopped inches short of the goal, as the gun sounded.

The lineup:

MESA LEGION IN DRIVE FOR BUILDING FUND

COSTA MESA, Oct. 9.—With pledges of $312 already received, the members of the Costa Mesa American Legion post are continuing their drive for funds to construct a new clubhouse on Legion property located on West Eighteenth street near the Women's clubhouse. As soon as sufficient funds have been raised, work is expected to start on the foundation at which time ground breaking ceremonies will be held.

Plans of the American Legion post are to petition the county supervisors for financial assistance, it being understood this body may aid a project up to approximately 20 per cent of the value of the structure when completed. Mesa Legionnaires expect to raise the local share of the cost of materials from their own ranks. Labor on the building will be contributed mostly by carpenters, plasterers, and general workmen familiar with the building industry from the ranks of the Mesa Legion.

Members of the building committee are: Chairman Emmett Allen, Dick Carlton, Bob Fisher, Glenn Cramer, Leroy P. Anderson, George Grupe, Leo Payne and John Jones, who are now carrying on the drive for pledges.

FRUIT PACKING HOUSES OF ANAHEIM END WORK

ANAHEIM, Oct. 9.—Anaheim orange packing houses are shutting down this week after a shorter season than usual. While two or three cars of off-blooms may be sent out next week, major activities are suspended now in most of the houses.

Three more weeks will end the season with all fruit expected to be disposed of in the east by that time. The fiscal year of the Central Orange County Fruit Exchange closes November 1, according to Manager C. H. Lawrence. In the past there has often been a hold-over of fruit shipped after that time which necessarily appeared in the following year's returns, but such is not the case this year.

The season was shorter this year due to the quantity of frost-damaged fruit. Shipping started the end of April and while the season last year opened at about the same time for domestic fruit, last year's market also included foreign shipments sent earlier in the spring. There was no foreign shipping this year. The season in 1936 closed for the Central Orange County exchange on October 30, three weeks later than this year.

AWARD YACHT TROPHIES AT NEWPORT SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 9.—Commodore William A. Bartholomae Jr. announced today that trophies for the Newport Harbor Yacht club events of the yachting season just closed will be presented at a meeting to be held October 30 at the clubhouse.

Another announcement of general interest is the date of the annual meeting, which has been set for December 11, when the election of officers will take place. Reports of the commodore and other officers for the past season, which has been very active, will be received at this meeting.

Present officers of the Newport Harbor Yacht club are William A. Bartholomae Jr., commodore; Shirley E. Meserve, vice commodore; E. D. Dorris, rear commodore; and Leon S. Heseham, secretary.

At the high school, a fire drill was carried out, the efficiency of the drill being complimented by both Woodward and Loveland. The local volunteer fire department has recently added an inhalator of latest type, usable either indoors or out-of-doors for needed resuscitation work. Mayor Schroeder is holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor awarded for war service of outstanding heroism. At last night's session of the Vagabonds, the following members were introduced, speaking briefly: Ted Cook, humorist, columnist, and old-time newshawk; Charles F. "Chuck" Reiser, motion picture director; Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, eminent engineer, inventor of a device for cooling ships at sea and many other engineering instruments and Frank Cuprien, Laguna Beach artist.

In keeping with established custom of the club, an episode in the life of Robert Louis Stevenson, patron of the Vagabonds, was made part of the program. George B. SEAL BEACH, Oct. 9.—An exception to the reported trend of lowered enrollment in the primary grades of schools throughout the country exists in the Seal Beach Elementary school, according to J. H. McLaugh, district superintendent. Enrollment here has gone up from the 258 at the end of September to an all time high of 282 pupils. Enrollment last year averaged 225 pupils.

The increase is distributed over the eight grades and kindergarten. McLaugh says, with the exception of the first grade, which has 16 more youngsters this year than it did in October last year.

CITY COUNCIL TO GET CARDS ON WEDNESDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 9.—Post cards have been mailed to all of the registered voters in the city by the chamber of commerce to learn their opinion regarding the proposed $52,000 beach pavilion.

The straw ballots are to be returned to the chamber not later than Wednesday, October 13, and the ballot will then be counted at 5 p. m. and presented at a special meeting of the city council that evening.

There is some question among leaders whether the project is really the desire of the voters even though the proposal carried in an election many months ago.

The question on straw ballot is as follows: "Do you favor the immediate construction of the proposed beach pavilion to be located on the beach east of the municipal pier at a cost estimated to be $52,000? Of this amount the federal government has made a grant of $23,456 or 45 per cent of the cost—the city to pay its share out of the general fund?"

Powell, Lombard To Show In Mirthquake

Starring William Powell and Carole Lombard, "My Man Godfrey," Universal's romantic, fast-paced, dizzy comedy, and "I Promise to Pay," startling expose of the merciless loan shark racket, with Chester Morris, Leo Carrillo and Helen Mack, screen at the State, beginning tomorrow.

William Powell attains the distinction of being a butler for the nuttiest family in the whole country, in "My Man Godfrey." The charming, talented Carole Lombard is co-starred with him in the screen offering, which was taken from Eric Hatch's sparkling, mirth-stirring novel of the same name.

The screen narrative reveals Powell as a "forgotten man," being brought to a very ritzy party by Carole Lombard, so that she may win first prize in a Scavenger Hunt. Then she engages Powell as the butler and the fun takes on a madder pace.

This bawdy family, generally known as "The batty Bullocks," includes: One baffled husband who has been thoroughly gaffed by a slightly daffy wife. He is laughed at by society's raffraff for permitting her to pamper a "protege of the rich" and for giving him the freedom of the parlor. The husband is further snaffled by the wild expenditures and tall dolings of his dizzy daughters. When his stock market, he is saved by the fortune he lost in the raffle of the butler who finally falls for the sweet blandishments of the dizzy daughter.

Besides William Powell and Carole Lombard, the cast includes Alice Brady, Gail Patrick, Jean Dixon, Eugene Pallette, Alan Mowbray, Mischa Auer, Robert Light and Franklin Pangborn.

With the two features, Chapter 6 of "Roaring West," also screens.

Although he doesn't look it in this particular scene, William Powell, above, with Carole Lombard, is cast as the "forgotten man" in the hilarious comedy, "My Man Godfrey," screening tomorrow at the State. Second feature brings "I Promise to Pay," picture of the loan shark racket, with Chester Morris, Leo Carrillo, Helen Mack.

Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell, above, are newspaper folks at the Broadway theater, beginning today, as they star in "Back in Circulation," a thrilling murder mystery story with an all-star cast. "Dance, Charlie, Dance," starring Stuart Erwin, Allen Jenkins and Glenda Farrell, is second feature, a roaring comedy.

Newspaper Picture On Broadway Bill

"Back in Circulation," written by Adela Rogers St. Johns, stars Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell on the Broadway screen beginning today, along with the "Dance, Charlie, Dance," brilliant musical comedy starring Stuart Erwin, Allen Jenkins and Glenda Farrell.

"Cartoon," "The Golfers," and Fox news are added attractions. "Back in Circulation" has to do with the mystery death of a millionaire and its solution by O'Brien, as managing editor of a sensational newspaper, and his star reporter, Miss Blondell. A high class cast includes Margaret Lindsay, John Lital, Regis Toomey, Craig Reynolds and George E. Stone.

The story of "Dance, Charlie, Dance," is based upon the experiences of a small town innocent, Erwin, who goes to New York to make a fortune. Quite by accident, he becomes owner of a Broadway hit but not until he has passed through a storm of hilarious complications.

In the same cast are Jean Muir, Harvey Clark, Charles Foy and many others. Song hits "Dance, Charlie, Dance," and "Bal-let De Bunk," are included in the picture, based upon George S. Kaufman's comedy play.

KAY FRANCIS FILM IS READY

Starring Kay Francis and Ian Hunter, "Confession," as personal as a diary, and "West of Shanghai," with Boris Karloff, Ricardo Cortez and Beverly Roberts in the leading roles, are scheduled to screen beginning Wednesday at the Broadway.

On the same program, Edgar Bergen's "Charlie McCarthy" in "Neckin' Party," travelogue, "Pacific Paradise," and world news show on the same program.

In "Confession," Miss Francis sings, dances, is a bride, a lonely wife, a mother, a prisoner—she's seven women in one in an inspiring role out in her pattern, with full opportunity to exert her charm and talents. An excellent cast supports her, including Basil Rathbone, Jane Bryan, Donald Crisp, Dorothy Peterson, Robert Barrat, Laura Hope Crews and many others.

"West of Shanghai" is a thrilling story of warfare in China.

BRET HARTE'S STORY FILMED

A gripping story of love, conflict and sacrifice, played against the colorful background of the early gold diggings in California, "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," shows for the first time in Santa Ana, at the State, Wednesday and Thursday.

Second feature is the laugh-riot, "That Man's Here Again," with Hugh Herbert, Tom Brown and Mary Maguire.

Peopled with adventurers from every land, the famous Mother Lode country of California was setting for Bret Harte's immortal "The Outcasts of Poker Flat." Preston Foster, Jean Muir, Monte Blue and a score more are in the cast. Many of the scenes were taken in the snow-clad San Bernardino mountains.

Hugh Herbert, whose especial brand of laugh-making is so individual and whose flutery and tittering antics have made him a favorite whenever films are shown, is at his best in "That Man's Here Again," as a wealthy, eccentric art collector, who aids Brown and Miss Maguire along the rocky road of love. The picture is said to hit the heart as often as it does the funny-bone. A George Price musical comedy short, "Captain Blue-blood," is on the same bill.

INTRIGUE FILM AT WEST COAST 'MELODY 1938' AT WALKER'S

"The prisoner of Zenda," Anthony Hope's swashbuckling tale of love, intrigue and adventure in the courts of Europe, with Ronald Colman, Madeleine Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and "Women Men Marry," featuring George Murphy and Josephine Hutchinson, are double-billed at the West Coast today.

Cartoon specialty and world news also are offered. Colman is at his charming best in the difficult dual role of the adventurous Rudolf Rassendyll and as the roistering King Rudolf V whom he resembles so closely.

Lavishly mounted with 60 breathtaking sets, including a cathedral, castle and sumptuous ballroom, "The Prisoner of Zenda," offers some of the most impressive and beautiful scenes ever filmed.

An interesting, extremely unusual newspaper story is told in "Women Men Marry." The story, written by a newspaperman, presents a star reporter, assigned to track down a cult of fake mystics. His managing editor takes advantage of his absence to win his wife while in the adventure of his assignment, the reporter sees his cameraman shot to death. But new loves bring new happiness to the reporter, an assignment handled well by Murphy. Cliff Edwards, Claire Dodd, Toby Wing and other prominent actors are in the cast.

That dashing musical, "Broadway Melody of 1938," with Robert Taylor, Eleanor Powell, Sophia Tucker, Buddy Ebsen, Judy Garland and a host of others, screens beginning tomorrow at Walker's theater. News, cartoon-comedy and novelty are on the same bill.

Sophie Tucker, "America's Red Hot Mama," went to Hollywood to sing and play the featured comedienne role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's musical, "Broadway Melody of 1938."

Featured with Miss Tucker in the supporting cast are George Murphy, Broadway song and dance star; Binnie Barnes, Buddy Ebsen, Judy Garland, 13-year-old singer; Charles Igor Gorin, concert and radio baritone; Raymond Walburn, Robert Benchley, Willie Howard, Charles Grapewin and Robert Wildhack.

M-G-M assigned Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed, authors of songs for all the "Melodies" since 1929, to do six new tunes, and Dave Gould directed the spectacular dance ensembles.

Planning "Broadway Melody of 1938" as the most ambitious musical of the company's history, Producer Jack Cummings turned the screen play over to authors Jack McGowan and Sid Silvers, who were responsible for "Born to Dance" and the 1936 "Melody of 1936." A chorus of 400 girls appears in the dance sequences.

Ronald Colman and Madeleine Carroll, above, in "The Prisoner of Zenda," a David O. Slesnick production released through United Artists, are playing at the West Coast today along with "Women Men Marry," newspaper film featuring George Murphy and Cliff Edwards.

FAMED PICTURES ON DOUBLE BILL

Rafael Sabatini's famous, colorful story of romantic adventure, "Captain Blood," filmed on a gigantic scale and with most of the scenes taken at Laguna Beach, is scheduled for Walker's theater beginning Wednesday, along with "In Caliente," another revival picture brought back because of popular enthusiasm of picture fans.

In "Captain Blood," thrilling tale of 17th century pirates, Errol Flynn has the title role, opposite Olivia De Havilland, beauty who skyrocketed to fame, when chosen for a leading role in "Midsummer Night's Dream." The picture has a cast consisting of over 40 principals and several thousand extra players.

In the cast are Basil Rathbone, Lionel Atwell, Guy Kibbee, Robert Barrat, Henry Stephenson, J. Carroll Nash and Hobart Cavanaugh. "In Caliente," starring Pat O'Brien and Dolores Del Rio, is a First National musical extravaganza screened by Busby Berkeley, famous creator of screen spectacles. "The Lady in Red," "In Caliente" and "Machuch," are the hits of the show's songs. Phil Regan is featured as singing bandit chief while Miss Del Rio is featured in a dancing review. O'Brien portrays an ultra-sophisticated magazine editor whose employers take to Caliente to try to sober him up. The fine cast includes Glenda Farrell, Leo Carrillo, Edw. Everett Horton and the De Marcos and Canova families. A Porky cartoon and world news also is offered.

Closing Tonight

A rousing, humorous, mystery story, "Super-Sleuth" with the Jack Oakie-Ann Southern combination, and a laugh-riot, "Riding on Air," starring Joe E. Brown, will screen at Walker's theater for the last time tonight. The Oakie vehicle is something new in the realm of movie mysteries and highly entertaining. In the picture the criminal is revealed early and causes the hero no end of trouble, the audience no end of fun. "Face-Making" Edgar Kennedy is in the cast. "Riding on Air" is based upon the famous Elmer Lane stories in the Saturday evening post and concerns a small-town newspaperman.

"Smoke Tree Range" starring Buck Jones, with a well-chosen selection of shorts, will screen for the last time at the State tonight. The feature deals with the grandson of a cattle baron, who fights his grandfather for the sake of the girl he loves, believing the grandfather is trying to dispossess the girl from a rich ranch, legally hers. Muriel Evans is the heroine. "Kick Me Again," Joe Palooka comedy, color cartoon; world news and Chapter 11 of "Jungle Jim," also screen.

JIMMIE FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9. — Idol Chatter: Wonder when—and if—Charles Buddy Rogers will outgrow those college boy mannerisms? The Brown Derby Restaurant receives more fan mail than many stars. One word description of Gary Cooper's leading lady in "Souls at Sea": Dee-lightful. George Murphy still carries a membership card in the United Mine Workers' Union; he once swung a pick for a living and is proud of it. Those flowing chiffon dresses you see on the screen flow because a prop man with an air hose is standing just out of camera range.

Errol Flynn's vow that no woman would ever board his new yacht survived Lili Damita's return from France by about three hours. Hollywood's real blonde menace: Shirley Temple—still the No. 1 box office favorite. With a world champ for a husband, Lupe Velez still lacks a lot of being a good swimmer. Inconsistencies of Pickerville: Francis Lederer, president of an "international pacifist organization, is financing a prize-fighter's career. The honest sweat you see on the hero's forehead is not honest at all—it is two-thirds witch-hazel and one-third glycerin. If Leo Tracy's hands were tied, he would be practically speechless. Hollywood's hobby-horseman Cecil B. De Mille, collector of antique firearms and swords, Charlie Lombard is very proud of her library of rare tomes—but I have yet to catch her reading anything heavier than magazine fiction. No love lost: Dick Powell and Marion Davies. The screen's least athletic lady: Kay Francis—what a fuss she makes unless the sets for her pictures are built on the stage nearest her dressing room.

Set-watched Barbara Stanwyck this afternoon and witnessed one of the typical gestures which have made her the favorite personage of the hired help. She started to walk off the stage, tripped on a loose cable and saved herself a bad fall by desperately clutching a light standard. Loose cables on a studio set are as inexcusable as loose rope ends on a battleship, and the

PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney.
AMY KERR—Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim.
JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiancé.
HARRY HUTTON—Amy's strange visitor.
SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday, Mrs. Downey reveals that a man whispered to Mrs. Wheeler in the hall an hour or so after the murder of Amy Kerr. By pictures she identifies him as Harvey Ames.

CHAPTER XXII

AFTER the investigation, Cilly waited for the others to leave in order that she might see Sergeant Dolan alone. She felt that she should try, at least, to correct the false impression Mr. Corbett had given of her. But Dolan himself was the first to leave the room; later Detective Martin told her that he might be out for the remainder of the day.

Returning to the apartment house late that afternoon, she found Mr. Johnson standing in front.

"Good evening, Miss Pierce," the superintendent greeted. "I was sort of hoping you'd come along. Can I see you for a few minutes?"

"Yes, Mr. Johnson?"

"It's about the other morning. . . I don't know how to tell you. Those books you saw. . ."

Cilly nodded.

"Dolan asked me a lot of questions about them today. I guess he thinks I'm insane. But I didn't tell him. I won't tell the police, and have it all in the papers. It's different with you, Miss Pierce. I'd like to explain to you."

"The police should know, Mr. Johnson, if it has anything to do—"

JOHNSON held up his hand in alarm.

"It hasn't anything to do with the murder, Miss Pierce. I swear it. You can check up for yourself, if you don't believe me. I know you won't let it get into the papers. . . It's my wife. She's—she's not quite well, Miss Pierce."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Johnson. Terribly sorry. I didn't know you had a wife."

"She's been—away. It's almost 10 years now. We had a baby, and it lived only a few days. Then it was like something snapped in my wife's mind. . . she's never gotten over it. The doctors don't seem to know how to help her. I haven't had much education myself, but I got those books to study. Sometimes I think it might just be one little thing. . . one little word, perhaps, which might bring her back. . . something which the doctors haven't thought of. The trouble came so sudden-like, you see. There must be something to bring her back. . . if we could only find it."

There were tears in his eyes, which he hastened to brush away with a work-roughened hand. Cilly's heart went out to the man.

"I won't mention what you have told me, Mr. Johnson," she promised.

"I hope you won't, Miss Pierce," he said, appealingly. "I never spoke to anybody about this before. I don't want it to get around. When my wife gets better, it won't help any to have it known that she's been away all these years. . . Well, if there's anything else I can do, Miss Pierce. . ."

He started to leave.

"Oh, yes, Mr. Johnson, there is something else. Remember what I said this morning, down at police headquarters, about Mr. Hunter?"

"You mean about seeing him walk last night?"

"Yes, that was the truth, Mr. Johnson. I went over to the roof across the way just to watch the Bayview. What I really hoped to see was somebody in one of the empty apartments. It just happened that I met Mr. Corbett first—he was drunk, and very unpleasant. . ."

Johnson nodded. "He looked that sort of a man."

"However, I did see Mr. Hunter walking about his bedroom just as sure as I see you now. He's faking this paralysis, for some reason, and I'm going to find out why. What time do you usually take him up on the roof, Mr. Johnson?"

"He's up there now. I took him up about 15 minutes before you came along."

"Then Mrs. Hunter is alone now, probably washing the supper dishes. I think I'll go up to see her."

A FEW minutes later, Mrs. Hunter came to the door of her apartment in answer to Cilly's ring. When she saw who it was, she stepped back, startled. Cilly entered, shutting the door behind her.

"I'd like to talk to you about your husband, Mrs. Hunter," she said unhesitatingly.

"I've nothing to tell you!" the woman cried in terror. "You should be ashamed of yourself, making trouble for decent people. You've no right in my apartment. . . I'll tell my husband. . ."

Cilly walked boldly into the living room and sat down.

"There's been a murder committed in this house, Mrs. Hunter," she reminded the woman. "And the murderer is one of the men living here. Your husband was the nearest to the roof last Sunday night. . ."

Mrs. Hunter began to cry hysterically. "My husband is no murderer," she sobbed. "He never killed that girl. He never hurt anybody in his life, no matter what else. . ."

"No matter what else he did?" Cilly finished for her. "What is the other crime then, Mrs. Hunter? Cheating an insurance company?"

It was a blind stab in the dark; at the moment Cilly did not know herself what prompted the words. They hit home, nevertheless.

MRS. HUNTER wilted. Beseechingly she held her hands out to Cilly. "Don't testify, miss. I'll tell you about it, but I beg of you, don't let them think my husband is a murderer. He was in his bed when it happened, I swear it!"

"Why does he pretend to be a helpless cripple when he isn't?" Gradually the woman's sobs subsided; she began to speak more calmly. "My husband was out of work, and we were up against it. One week we hadn't had food for three days. He was frantic. Late that third night he was coming home, when right in front of our house a big car came tearing down the street. All of a sudden, it hit a dog and killed him. The driver swerved, and kept on going. He hit my husband. I screamed and ran out. Somewhere down the street, the police got the driver of the car. He was so drunk he couldn't stand up. It made my husband wild with anger. We hadn't eaten for three days, and this man could go around in a $10,000 car endangering other people's lives and property."

"Mr. Hunter had studied medicine, so when the young intern on the ambulance arrived, it was easy to make out he was paralyzed. So easy, in fact, that he kept up the pretense. The young fellow who ran him down settled for $50,000. He'll never miss it—his father left him $4,000,000. We live here quietly, because the man's lawyers still check up on my husband. But sometimes we go away on little trips and my husband doesn't have to pretend. . . Oh, I know it's wrong. . . but what does it matter to that man? He should have been taught a lesson. . ."

Pretty Linens Are Presented Party Honoree

Bearing be-ribboned packages containing linens in wide variety, party guests last night in the Clyde Higgins home, 1314 East Chapman avenue, Orange, joined with their hostesses, Mrs. Higgins and her mother, Mrs. G. F. Ludlow of this city, in complimenting Miss Helen Demetriou, fiancée of Paul Johnson.

Recent announcement of the choice of November 14 as the wedding date of Miss Demetriou and Mr. Johnson, has aroused lively interest among all the friends of the popular young bride-elect. Last night's enjoyable party was a manifestation of this interest, and the mother and daughter hostesses suggested the approaching nuptials in flower decorations of the home. Sprays of lilies of the valley embellished score pads and tallies for bridge play, and later in the evening were used on the place cards for the refreshment hour.

At this time, guests were seated at the card tables, freshened with embroidered linens and centered with bubble bowls in which pale yellow rosebuds floated. Miss Dorothy Dunbar and Mrs. Carleton Smith assisted in serving the salad and coffee course followed by little yellow and white frosted cakes. Mrs. Smith had provided many of the flowers used so attractively about the home.

Shower packages for the honor guest were heaped on the dining table, whose damask cloth was centered with a great cluster of shining white blossoms amidst which slim yellow bouquet tapers glimmered. Miss Demetriou was privileged to add to her shower gifts, the pretty bridge prize which she won for second high score.

Miss Eleanor Wisner took first prize, and Miss Betty Vorce took third. Gifts were in linen, in harmony with the general party theme.

Mrs. Ludlow and Mrs. Higgins included in their party list with the bride-elect, Miss Demetriou, her mother and sister, Mrs. George Demetriou and Miss Valerie Demetriou, with the Misses Dorothy Dunbar, Virginia Golden, Alys Majors, Mary Jean DuBois, Florence Turner, Betty Vorce, Eleanor Wisner, Mesdames Paul Reynolds, Carleton Smith, Kenneth Crawford, Allen Carstenson, Paul Soest, Dean Benton, George Winter, Santa Ana; Miss Verna Helm, Mrs. John Schwerin, Los Angeles; Mrs. Lee Hasenjaeger, Anaheim; Mrs. L. Philip Knox, Garden Grove, and Mrs. Leon Conkright, Alhambra, cius Conkey, Laguna Beach; Mrs.

Beauceant Groups Are Guests of Local Past Presidents

It was the privilege of past presidents of Santa Ana Beauceant, yesterday to entertain the California Past Presidents' association at the October meeting, attended by approximately a score of guests including those from this and other Southern cities.

Welcoming their visitors at the Masonic temple, the hostesses later escorted them to the Rossmore cafe for the noon luncheon hour. Later all returned to the temple lounge where tables were placed for bridge play. Attractive prizes chosen by the Santa Ana group were won by Mrs. F. W. Sutton of Glendale, holder of high score; Mrs. H. Stehl, also of Glendale, second high, and Mrs. Dolly Beck, Hollywood, low.

For the November meeting of the state organization, Santa Monica Past Presidents will entertain in that city. Forming a hostesses committee for yesterday's event were Mesdames J. W. Hancock, W. H. Thomas, C. S. Dunphy and W. E. Patterson.

Informal Tea Is Presented In Finch Home

When Mrs. Morton Finch of Memphis, Tenn., pays her next visit to her son and daughter-in-law, the Braden Finches of Panorama Heights, it will not be as though she were coming to a community of strangers. For yesterday, Mrs. Braden Finch gave a group of friends, pleasant opportunity to meet her husband's mother and all will welcome her return to Santa Ana for the post-holiday visit she has promised.

Arriving less than a week ago from her southern home, Mrs. Morton Finch is making a very flying visit indeed, as she plans to leave early the coming week for Memphis. In planning the tea as a compliment to her honor guest, yesterday's hostess maintained a simplicity in keeping with the quite effective old-time charm of her home.

She made no attempt to arrange a formal tea table, but instead served refreshments informally at the conclusion of an afternoon of friendly chat. Her daughter, Miss Frances Finch and Mrs. Calvin Flint lent assistance at this time. Zinnias, prim and quaintly old-fashioned, seemed a completely appropriate flower motif to employ.

Among those to whom Mrs. Finch extended invitation to meet her husband's mother in this pleasant fashion were Miss Rosa Boyd of Laguna Beach, Miss Gertrude Hollis, Mesdames Paul Dinsmore, Emrys D. White, Lloyd Chenoweth, Milton McMurray, Ada Bradford, Helms, W. B. Helms, Roy Brown, J. F. Burke, Loyal K. King, E. S. Gilbert, Charles F. Smith, M. Burr Wellington, Clarence Gustlin, James Irvine, F. G. Hoxie, Lucius Smith, Robert Northcross, Edgar Elfstrom, Dexter Ball, Harry Westover, John P. Scripps and her mother, Mrs. Lowry McClanahan of La Jolla, who is now her house-guest.

Bridge Players Enjoy Luncheon and Cards In Martien Home

One of those occasional gatherings of a little group of close friends who lunch and play bridge together from time to time, was shared yesterday when Mrs. Gilbert Martien was hostess in her home on Irvine boulevard.

In keeping with the informal atmosphere always maintained by these occasional sessions, Mrs. Martien served her luncheon menu at small tables gay with flowers to match the pottery of her luncheon service. Places were indicated for Mrs. B. J. McReynolds, Mrs. George Veeh, Mrs. Porter Luther, Mrs. Henry Pankey, Mrs. Glenn Warner, Mrs. L. R. Wilson, Mrs. Mabel Prescott and the hostess, Mrs. Martien.

In the afternoon of contract, Mrs. McReynolds was rewarded for high scoring, with consolation prize presented to Mrs. Pankey.

Economics Group Has Luncheon, Program

Seventeen members of Ebelt Third Household Economics section were present for luncheon and an informative program Thursday afternoon in the clubhouse lounge, where zinnias and other bright-hued flowers were used in decorating.

Mrs. F. M. Robinson and Mrs. C. W. Bairdon, co-hostesses for the day, had charge of the program. In keeping with the subject, "The Fish Are Running," Mrs. Robinson gave a paper on "Back of a Can of Fish." Mrs. Bairdon discussed rigid inspection of canneries.

Hostesses at the next meeting, November 4 will be Mesdames A. G. Finley, B. B. Kellogg and E. L. Morrison. "Ice Box Dainties" will be the subject.

Wait A Minute

Some people may be too cheery, but no one can possibly be too Community Chest-y, according to Lena (Ex-B. P. W. Prexy) Thomas who, in discussing the current annual drive, has some de-lisious stories to relate. . . . However, Mabel (Doc) Geddes has some that are even de-lisiouser. As for example when her knock at one door was answered by a Sweet Young Thing, evidently a very recent bride, who after a tentative suggestion regarding Community Chest, said brightly, "Oh no, we're not interested now in a Community chest—we've decided on the fleur de lys pattern!" . . . Mabel also tells of one woman whose mind is evidently made up on present day conditions, and whose response was "Roosevelt started this — let him finish it!" . . . Well annyhoos the drive is accomplishing very pleasant things in the present in addition to the good it will do in the future. There are the "Minute Men" who address various service organizations, frinstance. . . . By the way how come there are so many insurance men represented? Mac (Ins.) Robbins. . . . E. M. (Ins.) Sundquist, known as "Sunny" to virtually everybody in town. . . . Harold (Ins.) Dale. . . . Of course there are a few exceptions—J. B. (Attorney) Tucker. . . . Velda (Mrs. Clarence) Gustlin. . . . Mae (Mrs. M. E.) Geeting. . . . But it's a pretty nice group of speakers, don't you think? Let's help 'em put it over!

Signs of the Times—wisps of smoke rising from walnut groves all over the county, as Mexican families gather in a picturesque and nomadic life that leads one's fancies into the fields. . . . Something almost Biblical about it. . . . George (Van Dien-Young) Young, known more generally as "Husky," barbecuing venison steaks to the right tempting turn. . . . George (Stanford) Munro, rounding out his vacation by bagging a deer while on a hunting trip out from Porterville. . . . Two of the proudest youths in the city, Steven Carol and Bob Collier, jubilant over getting the largest buck of the season in Silverado Canyon. . . . George S. (Sportsman) Briggs, just home from hunting grizzly bear in Alaska. . . . James (Rancher-Financier) Irvine, up in the High Sierras, fishing. . . . Harold (Edison Co.) Daley, also in the Sierras where he bagged a 200-pound buck, and left Wife Lorraine to watch it for five whole hours while he hiked back to camp for help in bringing it out. . . . By the way, why do people invariably say "bagged a deer?"

Katherine and Floyd (Motor Parts) Klingenberg are a very proud Maw and Paw over the little son born on the very first day of October. . . . So are Celestia (Poet) and David (Radio Technician) Hargis down in San Diego, over New Son David Walter. . . . But they are a white powder than Granda Florence and Walter (Painter, Contractor) Straub of Santa Any. . . . Marian (Mrs. Jack) Minihan is de-lighted (as we'd be too) over a new picture sent her by Nephew David (Conde Nast Publications Artist) Payne—the original of a recent House of Garden magazine cover. . . . It seems only fair to warn Alan (The Times Took) Bisset that if the treatment introduced by J. M. (Doc) Burlew when Alan sliced off the end of his finger in a picture frame contraption, could cause the sliced end to grow again to the finger, it might even start a whole new digit.

"May I extend wishes for a happy year," graciously said Motion Picture Actress Soo Yong this week in opening her talk before Junior Ebelt assembly. It sounded like a forecast, so nicely are Junior Ebelt activities getting underway with Molly (Mrs. Albert) Harvey as president. . . . Such excitement when Betty (Register) Howell opened a gift box to find embroidered pillow cases, tea towels and lotsa other things, evidently designed with hope-chests in mind. . . . Lawrence (Filling Station) Chaffee please note. . . . Add to disconcerting experiences, the time that Octa (Mrs. Charles) Cogan and Dotter Eleanor (Jaysee) Cogan, unfortunately seemed to run out of gas, and had to push Eleanor's little Chevy clear down a dark alley to a filling station. We hope with all our hearts, that nobody else saw them, because it would be too bad for friends to rib them about it.

Here and There, Ruth and Harold (Drummer-Ossifer) Boyce and family nicely settled in San Clemente where Harold is a member of the City's Finest. . . . Nancy (Scripps) White taking a little vacation this year from college and doing nothing in particular—except visiting at present back in Montana with Mama Nancy (Ebel Mrs. Emrys) White, but planning to return to skule next fall. . . . Burr (Attorney) Wellington thoughtfully studying football scores with Frank (Bakery) Cook. . . . Dr. Mary (Journal) Wright, entertaining a luncheon foursome at Danigers. . . . John (Ins.) Schrier telling his impressions of

Mrs. Skirvin Is Surprised On Natal Day

"Do you recall where you were just a year ago today?" inquired Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, yesterday afternoon of her hostess, Mrs. Joseph H. Metzgar, when the latter was entertaining the intimate little sewing club of which both have long been members.

It took several minutes for Mrs. Metzgar to recall that on October 8, 1936, she, Mrs. W. B. Williams and Mrs. Alex Brownridge, also members of the club, were giving informal celebration to Mrs. Skirvin's birthday anniversary. The coincidence was too happy an affair to be overlooked, as the birthday celebrant discovered later at the tea hour.

For by some magic means, the guests hastily and secretly secured a special birthday cake whose candles added a friendly glow to the table scene when all were invited to the dining room. Mrs. Skirvin had the honor of cutting the cake, which was added to the dainties which the hostess had in readiness to serve.

The whole affair gave a special charm to the occasion, increasing the friendly intimacy of this group which has come together for a number of years. Flowers emphasized this charm, and while those in deep and vivid hues were used about the home, the table was all in rust and yellow tones, matched by the yellow tapers and the birthday cake candles. Mrs. Sprague had provided the greater part of the blossoms.

Mrs. Metzgar included a few guests on her invitation list. Mrs. "Gene" Tradewell, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth and Mrs. Charles Druitt, with the sewing club members in addition to the birthday celebrant, Mrs. Skirvin, Mrs. B. B. Sprague, Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. F. W. ## HINDRANCES THAT HELP

And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations, that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. Concerning this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. And He hath said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee, for my power is made perfect in weakness.

—II Corinthians 12:7-9.

Can you "take it"? Some people can't.

Opposition overcomes them on the start. A bit of criticism chills their enthusiasm. Obstacles appear insurmountable. Difficulties are a handy alibi when failure looms before their feeble efforts. Such folks are licked before they start.

There are others who seem to welcome difficulty. When the going is hardest they shine the brightest. For them a handicap is something to be overcome; an obstacle is a hurdle to be jumped. Physical disabilities, unfavorable circumstances, unfriendly surroundings—all such hindrances serve to bring out the best in the man who has the best in him.

Adversity is never welcomed by its victim, and probably no man ever shouted for joy when he discovered his handicap, but poets and philosophers have been eloquent in their praises of the uses of opposition and struggle. Horace said, "Adversity has the effect of eliciting talents which in prosperous circumstances would have lain dormant," and some other has added, "No man is more unhappy than the one who is never in adversity; the greatest affliction of life is never to be afflicted." And Ellen Glasgow has wisely remarked, "No life is so hard that you can't make it easier by the way you take it."

The work of the world has been done by handicapped people, by people struggling against heavy odds, by people who were so determined to succeed that they could not recognize defeat, and so were victorious. Call the role of those who have won their places and you will see that this is so.

When Richard Wagner was sixty years old and had written whole volumes of music, the world still laughed at him and refused to admit his genius. But he lived to see the day when he was grudgingly acclaimed, and we who love his music now can realize how much would have been lost to the world if he had yielded to his critics. Mozart composed his "Requiem" when disease had invaded his body and when every movement brought him pain. Beethoven became deaf in his young manhood and composed his marvelous harmonies for our ears, though he never heard them himself. The "Moonlight Sonata" and the tremendous "Ninth Symphony"—how they have enriched the world, and yet the composer could hear their stirring strains only in his mind.

Phillips Brooks, graduating from college, was told by his president, "Brooks, whatever you do, don't try to preach." He had a stammering tongue and a hesitant manner that handicapped him, but we know him as one of the greatest of pulpit orators. David Livingstone was so timid that he broke down in his first sermon, and ran out of the church; but later on he braved the wild men and wild beasts of darkest Africa.

Robert Louis Stevenson lived in pain all his days, while he gave us "Treasure Island" and the "Child's Garden of Verses" and all his other beautiful contributions to our thought.

Paul was hindered by what he calls "a thorn in the flesh." He asked God to take it away, and of course God could have done that, just as He could take away your affliction and mine. But God knows what is best for His children. Instead of taking away the trouble He gave Paul grace to bear it, and in bearing it Paul developed new powers.

Perhaps you think you are handicapped. Then thank God for it, and align yourself with the great and good of earth, who have overcome their hindrances and have written their names high in the hall of fame. It is the handicapped who have done things.

We have God's word for it that no man shall be tried above what he is able to bear, and that with every trial there will be provided the way of escape, that he may be able to bear it. No chastening seems desirable, said Paul, but it works out for us excellent results if we endure it, and don't let it get us down.

We grow by overcoming. Moral victories give us moral muscle. "We acquire the strength we have overcome," says Emerson.

So thank God for difficulties and obstacles. Learn to "take it on the chin" and come back for more. "He that overcometh, I will give to him to sit down with me in my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne."

Our Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

I hate to see a child's hands ill cared for. Hands are beautiful in themselves, and if given ordinary care, shine with the light of intelligence. If you think that is a strange thing to say please study the hands of the people about you. They reflect the souls of their owners, their strength and their weakness; the story of the mind's workings are set in their bones, expressed in their movements.

The hands that do nothing except lie helplessly, soft, pliable, futile things are the hands of the helpless, futile person who owns them. Study the surgeon's hands. Look well at the hands of the sculptor with its broad, flat thumb and short, strong nails. See the power in the hands of the good stone mason. They are the hands of a builder and in them is the builder's vision shining like a light through them.

And the feel of intelligent hands. What a feeling of kinship they give you as you shake them! The grasp is firm and sure and steady and warm. It makes you long to hold on and never let go for there is a feeling of great security in the grasp of a friendly, intelligent hand. You know the feel of the flabby, cold, flipper of the individual who does nothing and cares less for human needs. It is a dead hand, the true expression of the dead soul. Nobody wants to hold it for a second; everybody wants to avoid touching it, even looking at it. The intelligent hand is the clear expression of the trained intelligence behind it.

Children should be trained to care for their hands. First to keep them clean; to keep the nails clean and trim. I have nothing to say for scarlet nails, nor anything against them. They do not matter much either way but I have noticed that the surgeon and the artist and the writer and the mason, all people who do creative work, give the color of their nails scant attention. They are usually short, trim and of pearly-pink color, the color they had in the beginning. One can scarcely improve upon it.

Next, children ought to be taught to make their hands useful, to do things with them. Any work that uses the hands skillfully adds to the power of the child's intelligence and, in return, to the beauty and grace of the hands. Hands help to build minds, something that many people forget.

Girls fear that housework will dim the beauty of their hands. It will roughen the skin; it will break the nails; it will rob the hands of infantile beauty, that is true. But who wants infantile hands? Housework demands intelligent work, and intelligent work is the salvation of humanity. In these days of lotions, good soaps and fine powders, splendid kitchen equipment—there is not much danger of ruining the hands as there used to be in the days of Mother Machree. All that is needed is a little care. Let the work go on.

This is what I would teach children. Useful hands are beautiful. Use makes hands express intelligence, and intelligence is true beauty. Instead of warning against thumb sucking and nail-biting dwell on the beauty and the usefulness of hands. Praise lovely hands.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

SPANISH WAR TO BE TALK SUBJECT

The Spanish War will be discussed Monday night when the class, New Books and Their Makers, meets from 7 to 9 p. m. in the Willard junior high school library. The discussion will be based upon a review of the book "Life and Death of a Spanish Town," by Elliott Paul and published by Random House.

According to Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the Adult Education department, sponsoring the class, a condensation of the book is given in the book section of the October issue of Reader's Digest. The book deals with the situation in Spain before and after the civil war. It tells in a pleasing manner of the life in Spain before the war and contrasts it with the present regime, she said.

Mrs. Weston said members of the class are requested to bring their current copies of Reader's Digest from which selections will be made for reviews for the following week.

TYPING CLASS TO BE OPENED MONDAY

Popularity of the typing class being offered as a part of the adult education program has necessitated the opening of a new class at Willard junior high school, according to Mrs. Helen Walden, instructor.

The new class for both beginning and advanced students will be opened at 7 p. m. Monday. New students are urged to enroll in this class rather than the Tuesday night group which is already overcrowded, Mrs. Walden said. More than 100 persons already have registered in the typing classes which now meet Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evening in room 203, at Willard and Wednesday nights at Lathrop junior high school.

BETTE DAVIS IN NEW DRAMA SOON

That great dramatic actress, Bette Davis, is scheduled to arrive on the West Coast screen beginning next Friday in "That Certain Woman," while, with the same booking, "Game That Kills," screens with Charles Quigley and Rita Hayworth in leading roles.

Again given a photoplay that has plenty of scope for her unique emotional talents, Miss Davis has lighted numerous new audiences with her part in "That Certain Woman."

Adventure, romantic love, martyrdom, mother-love—all are portrayed by Miss Davis to perfection in this story which gives her a much larger part than that in "Kid Gallahad," with Edward G. Robinson. The story is that of a widow of a slain gangster who, despite scorn of the world, wins her way to business success and into the affections of a worthy man.

Women To Form Special Group

Organization of a Women's Missionary Council by the women of the Full Gospel Assembly, at 1600 West Third street, is planned next Thursday afternoon at two o'clock when Mrs. Charles Peters, of Pasadena, president of the Women's Missionary Council of the Southern California District, will meet with the church women here. All women are invited to attend. It was stated by the Rev. E. L. Friend, pastor.

Of the United Kingdom (England and Ireland), 620,000 acres are submerged with water at each period of high tide.

Modern Poets

BY BUELAH MAY

Poems by Rose Zagnoni Marinoni (Snapshot in November)
Proud as a mother cat with her new litter
Of new-born kittens in the morning sun,
The Apple Woman sits beside her cart
And polishes the apples one by one,
She blows her breath upon each ruby swell,
And rubs it with her apron to a glow;

Around her black umbrella flutters down
A silver halo of November snow.

Tony Wons Scrap-Book, 1936. ETERNAL YOUTH

His shoulders straight and his demeanor proud,
I often see him passing in the street—
The blind man with his wife.
On steady feet
He walks beside her talking half aloud.
She brings him to his corner where he sits
With hand extended holding a cup,
Until time comes for her to help him up,
To while away her time she counts and knits
For twenty years he has not seen her face!
But etched inside his heart he sees her still,

A lovely girl upon a bright green hill.

Leaning against his heart with April grace.

His eyes are foreign to this toothless hag,
With wrinkled prune-like cheeks and faded hair,
Who sits beside him on a folding chair,
The knitting in her hands a twisted rag.
And when the light of day grows strangely dim,
He proudly walks beneath the budding stars
Unmindful of the crowd and whizzing cars,
Believing men will turn and envy him.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

WHEN HE IS ON GUARD

A friend of mine sat in his parking car. His Irish terrier dog lay on the seat beside him. I stopped to say good morning. As I reached my arm into the car to shake hands, the terrier snarled fiercely and snapped at my wrist. His master struck the poor brute a hard blow over the side of the head, and scolded him. Usually, I have too much sense to interfere between an owner and his dog. But this was an exception. "If he knows why you hit him," grab a rug without the dog's representing the theft. In short, you've just given him a brutal lesson in not guarding your car and in not guarding you. When I—a stranger to him—stuck my arm into the car toward I wasn't going to punch your jaw or steal your rug. So he went into action. He was defending you and your property. He happened to be born with the mighty valuable watchdog instinct. And you've just done your best to wreck it."

I admit it was no business of mine to speak as I did. Yet what I said was gospel truth. Think it over, for yourselves, when you're tempted to punish your watchdog. Copyright, 1937, McNaughton, Inc.

$500.00 IS ALL YOU NEED

To own one of these nice homes. Take this one for $499.00, it's only 7 or 8 years old, has 5 rooms, it rents for $40.00, the taxes are but $65.00, or here's one for $575.00, with 6 rooms, a stucco house—same age—taxes $60.00, or if you've $1000.00, perhaps this 3 room English stucco would suit, the total price is but $1,650.00. About $40.00 per month interest at 4% will pay the balance.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

The Laguna Beach city council and the Festival of Arts general committee are to be commended for taking action that eventually will lead to securing a permanent site for the Festival.

The Festival of Arts is one of Laguna's greatest assets. No longer, however, does it belong to Laguna. It has become nation wide in its scope and its support comes from all Orange county and a large portion of Southern California.

The establishment of a permanent home for the Festival also will furnish an ideal location for many concerts and little theater productions that are sponsored in the art center. The selection of the Woman's club grounds offers a most ideal setting. The grounds are large enough to accommodate the various booths and stages necessary.

All Orange county should get behind Laguna Beach and its Festival of Arts and the council and Festival committee have started something that should prove both profitable and popular.

INVESTMENT IN TREES

Until recently, America looked on its timber resources as it did on its mineral deposits—as veins to be exploited until they were exhausted. Now the nation is beginning to see that they should be treated as crops, with the future's yield taken into account.

The current issue of Forestry News Digest tells of a sustained-yield plan that the U. S. Forest Service has worked out for a 130,000-acre stand of hardwood timber in upper Michigan. This timber is now being cut at the rate of 14 to 20 million board feet a year. It will be all gone in about 20 years.

The Forest Service's plan calls for a system of cutting under which only about 56 per cent of the merchantable timber on each acre would be removed. This would reduce the annual yield—but reforestation would make the yield permanent. That part of Michigan would always have a timber crop, just as Iowa always has a corn crop.

Such plans are not hard to work out. It should not be hard to get industry to accept them. And how infinitely superior such a scheme is to the old cut-'em-down-and-move-on program!

FINE EXAMPLE

Sixty-seven employees of the city street department, park department and city garage have set a fine community spirit example that could be followed by almost every worker in Santa Ana.

These 67 employees each contributed an average day's pay to the Community Chest. In all they turned into the coffers of the Chest $334.92.

This act was voluntary on the part of the city workers and came about following a meeting of the men in which an intelligent discussion of the Community Chest and its needs was held.

If every worker in Santa Ana would contribute an average day's pay to the Community Chest the drive would end in short order and the fund would be over-subscribed.

Maybe it's too late to do it this year as many already have made their contributions. However, there are hundreds who thus far have not subscribed.

We will have another Chest drive next year. Why not make plans today for next year and decide to give one day's pay.

It's a fine idea and the city workers who conceived and carried out the plan are to be commended.

MOBILIZING AGAINST ACCIDENTS

Ten thousand men and women will mobilize for war on accidents at the twenty-sixth National Safety Congress and Exposition which will be held from October 11 to 15 in Kansas City.

Accidents—which killed 111,000 Americans and injured ten million in 1936—will be given microscopic study. More than 400 speakers will discuss accident prevention in the home, on the farm, on streets and highways, in industry, in schools, in the air and at sea. The meeting will attract accident prevention experts and students from every corner of the United States and a number of foreign countries.

The work that is done at this congress can be of immense potential value, if the public will co-operate. But the best plan in the world can do little if the attitude of public indifference toward the hazards that menace life and property continues. The finest accident prevention program ever devised is relatively useless without enthusiastic public co-operation and support. The most complete surveys of the cause of accidents are valueless if no attention is paid to them. Final public benefit will rest with the public—John Jones' life can't be saved if John Jones is too lazy to help.

Accident prevention is an individual problem. It is up to each of us to take the simple steps that suffice to prevent the bulk of accidents, minor and major, within the home, in business, on the highways or elsewhere. Passing the buck doesn't work.

This coming Safety Congress will be the largest and most important ever held. Experts and humanitarians will do everything in their power in the interest of saving us from death and injury, but the final answer must be made by the people.

DEFENDING PROPERTY RIGHTS ABROAD

The President's concern over protecting contracts and property rights abroad seems rather inconsistent when we consider the lack of respect of property rights and contracts in our own country.

It is rather strange that we should be so interested in other nations living up to their contracts and protecting property rights when we cannot even live up to our own contracts with our own people. The federal government was obliged to repudiate its own contract to pay its obligations in a given manner. The federal government is not even strong enough to deliver a piece of mail to an individual if some kind of voters object.

It would seem about the last possible thing we could do, would be to try to show the other people of the world how to be honest and get along when there are more people out of employment in the United States, in proportion to population, than in any other place in the world.

Instead of attempting to run the rest of the world, the federal government might well devote its attention to establishing a sound money system, to protecting the right of a man to work at any line of work he believes society most wants done; we might well attempt to preserve the independence of our courts; we might well attempt to bring about a feeling of cooperation rather than hate between the rich and the poor; we might well attempt to encourage thrift and saving instead of discouraging it; we might well attempt to work out a taxing system that was not simply a legal form of confiscation of the most discriminatory nature; we might well attempt to establish a true democracy in the United States so that one individual and God is a majority as long as he does not attempt to restrict others from working, producing and enjoying the fruits of his labor; we might well attempt to eliminate all monopolies, all special privileges and establish self-reliance among people and have them come to believe that those who will not work are not entitled to be kept by the labor of others.

By all means we certainly should protect property rights in United States against sit-down strikers before we should attempt to protect property rights in China.

Mr. Roosevelt speaks of the violation of agreements and the threats to the very foundation of civilization, but the United States government, in the last two decades has largely destroyed the spirit of thrift and individual initiative and social order within America and certainly cannot cast the first stone.

War is a dictator's game, it goes along with men who believe they are almost divinely appointed to regulate the lives of everyone and tell everyone what he can do and what he cannot do.

After a ruler has killed the goose that lays the golden egg, he usually tells his followers that the other nations are to blame for their own predicament.

ENGLAND'S LONG CONTINUED PROSPERITY

Of course the real reason of England's long life and its great advance in living standards was due to intellectual leadership. It really started with Adam Smith 160 years ago. It was followed by Ricardo, McCulloch and Mill and such modern economists and politicians as Marriott and Angell.

These thinkers all recognized the necessity of capital. They recognized the necessity of people's rights in property. They also recognized that no individual, no matter how powerful he might be, should appropriate too much of the total production to his own use. The great majority of English people in power and authority were not boastful, bragadocio wasters. They were conservative people. They were people who enjoyed thinking rather than displaying their wealth. They were not like the rich nabobs of the east who delighted in showing their splendor, their power. They were not like the savage tribesmen, who liked to parade and show their muscle, their power and their decorations.

The leaders of England as a whole enjoyed developing the mind. They enjoyed the exchange of ideas, rather than displaying wealth.

That probably is the paramount reason why England made more progress than any other country in the world, with the exception of America.

While American people were great for display of wealth, its natural resources and its government that permitted free enterprise, permitted production of so much wealth for so many years that even with a wasteful display of wealth the great mass of workers had a relatively high standard of living. Although there was much poverty in both England and America as a whole, those who had initiative in the long run were much better rewarded in these countries than in any other country.

Something exactly like that has been going on here for a month.

NOT A LIFE INTEREST

Our government was founded on the belief in certain individual rights. Included in these were rights in property.

Now the government has decided to give no one a perpetual right in property, even if they pay as much tax on this property for the privilege of managing it as any other man. The rights in property are not even now a life interest in the property.

Of course, what is the dangerous part of this change in system is that it is discriminatory. It permits certain people to have perpetual rights in their property but those who can make two blades of grass grow where one grew before are not permitted to have even a life interest in their property. They cannot even give it to someone whom they think will manage it without having a large part of it confiscated for so doing.

The great danger in this is that when the state by limiting one class as to how long they can manage property, there is nothing to prevent the government from extending these restrictions to all classes. And that condition is rapidly coming about!

RARE MINDS

If we encourage the few rare minds on whom progress depends, we all advance. If we hinder them, we retard or prevent our own development.

Just An Everyday Occurrence

General Hugh S. JOHNSON Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Potemkin, a minister of Catherine of Russia, was one of the outstanding showmen in history. He undertook to remake the whole Crimea—building roads and dams and even cities in a vast resettlement administration. He made such glowing reports to the Empress about how perfect everything was that she decided to go there and see for herself.

Things were far from perfect. Some terrible things showing the failure of parts of his ambitious program happened right under Catherine's nose as she posed along—regular Chambers of Horrors could have been seen, but Catherine never saw them. Everytime anything like that happened, Potemkin pulled a glittering show on the other side of the road. Once he even had workmen put up a fake but magnificent model village, with only one side to the houses, just like a Hollywood set for such movies as "Lost Horizon" and had the Queen pass it at a distance, "so that she could see it in beautiful perspective."

Potemkin got away with it. He was a better showman than Barnum. He had the same cynical contempt for the doubtful intelligence of people in mass. A sufficiently clever expert in this art can literally get away with anything. It is one of the oldest tricks of the magician. He keeps the eyes of a whole audience fixed on the glittering balls he keeps in the air on one side of the stage and thus completely conceals what is going on on the other side to produce a seemingly impossible effect. Murders are said to have been committed in plain sight of eye-witnesses who didn't see them at all because their whole attention was thus diverted from the terrible thing that was a continuing part of the whole scene.

Something exactly like that has been going on here for a month.

WE, THE PEOPLE

AMBASSADORS AS TARGETS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is impossible not to sympathize with the anger of those holy business-men and patriotic missionaries in China who have protested that American Ambassador Johnson should not have left his post at Nanking when the Japanese airman came a-booming.

It is true that Mr. Nelson Johnson is a wise old owl, a man who has forgotten more about the Far East than most "old China hands" ever learn in a lifetime. It is true that he would be difficult for the state department to replace should he connect with the business and of a Nipponese demolition bomb. But our "prestige" is at stake and it is said to be the obvious duty of the state department to order our ambassador to China to remain where he can most easily be killed.

Shall it ever be said that the British ambassador was machine-

Would Have To Do Something About It. A dead envoy is worth a great war—or is he? At any rate, we would get a fever over it.

No doubt the missionaries would deny that they want the Japanese to kill Nelson Johnson. They would probably argue that his mere presence in Nanking (which we once bombed ourselves, not so long ago) would cause the Japanese bombers to shrink and turn back in horror lest they commit the sacrilege of mortal mayhem on his sacred person. Thus Nanking would have been preserved from bombing—the Japanese being notoriously sensitive in respect to the diplomatic niceties — and we could proceed to protect all China by a very simple device.

For the superstitious Asiatics make little distinction between a potentate and his photograph. To show disrespect to an image of the Mikado is to insult him. Having abided the Japanese designs upon Nanking by remaining beneath the bombers, Ambassador Johnson could have a large number of stuffed dummies representing him—in top-hat, tailcoat and with a little American flag in each hand—sent to every Chinese town within range of the Japanese airdromes. Still other images of our envoy could be placed in automobiles and on flat-cars, and used to patrol the chief highways and railroads of China. In this way we could ward off aerial devastation of the Chinese Republic and baffle the Japanese General Staff, at a very small cost.

Pooh to all these bloodthirsty non-combatants who are so generous with the lives and safety of other men!

If aircraft are engaged in bombing a capital, no sensible diplomat should remain there. After all, we pay our Ambassadors for their supposed gray matter and not for their beautiful white bodies. To argue that it is Mr. Johnson's "duty" to stay where he might be killed (thereby provoking a diplomatic row with Japan) is to imply that our ambassador is the chip which we dare the Japanese to knock off our shoulder. Such a theory is unfair to the particular chip involved and, if we really want to fight Japan (which seems doubtful) we can find a far better excuse than setting Nelson Johnson as a target.

The plain truth is that, among more important things, we stand to lose more "face" by exposing our Ambassador to sudden death at Japanese hands than by removing him from spots where accidents are about to occur. If he were killed after we had made an issue of his safety, we would have to put up or shut up, and it seems clear that, in the present mood of our public opinion, we would not go to war to avenge his death.

Putting it another way, if the pleadings of humanity against the indiscriminate massacre of non-combatant men, women and children in China, as in Spain, did not deter the Japanese or the Franco terrorists from their slaughter-house tactics, ordinary diplomatic etiquette would have no greater effect. And if these noisome atrocities do not inflame public opinion against the perpetrators of 1937 frightfulness, we would not become much excited by the death of an elderly official in a city which had been warned would be bombed by ruthless invaders.

SURGERY, RADIIUM, X-RAY MAIN FACTORS IN RECOGNIZED TREATMENT FOR CANCERS

This is the 19th of a series of articles in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses cancer, its causes and measures for its prevention and cure.

The main factors in the treatment of cancer today are surgery, radium and the X-ray. The X-ray has been tremendously improved in the last 20 years and much more has been learned about radium.

Long ago it was found that the tissues which make up a cancer are more sensitive to radium and the X-ray than are normal tissues. A surgeon may remove a cancer by use of a knife or the electric cautery or by similar methods. When he removes the cancer, he tries also to remove all of the tissues near the cancer which may have been invaded and all of the swollen glands related in any way to the growth.

The radiologist is particularly concerned with cancer of the skin and cancer of the cervix and uterus, and these methods are used also in certain tumors of the mouth, throat and larynx.

Radium has really been found to be of rather limited value in cancer of the stomach, liver, gall-bladder, pancreas, kidney and in testicles.

The dangerous methods of treatment include ointments, plasters, or massage. Ointments containing caustic drugs may damage the neighboring tissues and make them more susceptible to cancer. Massage or any rough manipulation may help to spread a tumor throughout the body. Diets, drugs, glands, serums, colored lights and similar methods also have been used without any real success.

It has been rather well established that neither worry nor cheerfulness can control the cause or disappearance of a cancer in any way. It is not possible to cause a cancer to disappear by adopting a cheerful attitude toward it.

Chief danger of attempting to treat a serious condition by mental methods is the possibility of overlooking any possible chances that exist for treatment with well established scientific methods.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1937 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—It looks like Mr. R. has succeeded in changing the subject. The blow he struck for peace was measured as an instantaneous success in the official notebook here, from that important standpoint.

The next question is whether the United States is going to get hurt. The clamor from the country, at first, sounded like preponderant opinion existed out there that we may. Even some sub-officials here looked frightened. A few among the army-navy crowd were particularly worried. Surface excitement in Washington has rarely been as tense.

But, on the inside, near the top, it was a different story.

There assurance seemed to exist that the new attitude can be successfully transposed into a workable program without extraordinary dangers. Obviously alternatives were worked out in advance. They may have been wrong, but here is the way they reasoned it out before they started. (You understand this background of inside reasoning is wholly unofficial, and based only partly on indirect information and partly on personal deduction of what led up to the move.)

The lineup for this thing was Great Britain, the U. S. France—(and Russia). You must always put Russia in a parenthetical whisper at the end, because this is supposed to be a lineup by dictators against the dictators. Russia and Russia hardly fits that picture although she happens to be on the right side.

Against were Japan, Germany and Italy.

The inside dope was that the opposition lineup might soon be even weaker, over his Mussolini carefully looked over him, and carefully counted the phalanx of men opposing him. At any rate, the authorities here rightly considered it ridiculous to expect the three weak dictatorships to take on the four largest nations in the world in a fight. That possibility was completely discarded.

Then only doubt concerned Japan. Some military authorities in the government here who know the far east, had a suspicion that the oriental mind might not appreciate the reasonableness of a forceful peace policy. They feared that official frenzy out there might create an incident. But the great majority knew Japan had more than she could handle at that moment in China. It seemed to them that Mr. Roosevelt could not have caught Japan pre-occupied at any time in the last twenty years. This point was not overlooked.

Then Japan had seized 80,000 square miles more of Chinese territory that moment of her current conquest. The insiders here had a sneaking feeling this is about all she would be able to masticate. It would not have surprised them if Tokyo privately would have relished an opportunity to get away with her loot and call it quits for the time being.

Editor Register: The Townsend Plan when put into effect will benefit all, young and old, rich and poor. In fact will be a great relief to those hardest hit by taxes. It will eliminate the taxes now being paid to maintain the poor farms and will cut to a minimum the taxes to carry the relief load. A possible saving of eighty percent. A similar saving will be made in the taxes required to maintain the penal institutions. A majority of the inmates now in our penal institutions today are young people, who are not criminal by nature but are there through circumstances, namely need and want. Given an opportunity to work and produce would eliminate the cause therefore would do away with most of our present crime for a contented person will not deliberately follow a life of crime.

It will increase consumption therefore will increase business in each and every category by putting money into circulation and will eliminate the so-called surplus and over-production "Boag & Boog" for there can be no surplus or overproduction as long as there are millions unemployed, hungry and in need of clothing and shelter. It is not over-production but lack of consumption that has this country tied in a knot. The Townsend Plan will correct all the evils that are so evident in our present economic set up.
